

Intelligence and Metadrama in the Early Modern Theatre

Bill Angus

EDINBURGH
University Press

Contents

Acknowledgements	vi
Introduction: Errant Intelligence – The Devil’s Own	1
1 ‘Subtle sleights’: Amity and the Informer in Damon and Pithias	39
2 The Parasites of Machiavel	67
3 The Knight of the Burning Pestle and the Menace of the Audience	92
4 The Reluctant Informer: Humanising the Beast	110
5 Metadrama and the Murderous Nature of Authority	132
6 The Burning Issue: Metadrama and Contested Authority in Chettle’s Hoffman	154
Conclusion: No One Is There – Ubiquity and Invisibility	175
Index	182