

Contents

Acknowledgments — V

Willi Goetschel and Gilad Sharvit

Introduction — 1

Part 1: Jewish Antiquity

Erich S. Gruen

Was Hellenism a Jewish Heterodoxy? — 17

Adiel Schremer

Negotiating Heresy: Belief and Identity in Early Rabbinic Literature — 30

Shraga Bar-On and Eugene D. Matanky

Revelation as Heresy: Mysticism and Elisha ben Abuyah's Apostasy in Classic Rabbinic Literature — 50

Part 2: Jewish Mysticism from the Middle Ages to Modernity

Ruth Kara-Ivanov Kaniel

King David as the Fourth Leg of the Chariot – Gender, Identity, and Heresy — 87

Moshe Idel

Abraham Abulafia: The Apotheosis of a Medieval Heretic in Modern Me'ah She'arim — 125

Part 3: Literature in Jewish Modernity

Robert Alter

The Authentic Paganism of Saul Tchernikhovsky — 161

David Suchoff

Heretical Canines: Kafka's "Forschungen eines Hundes" (Investigations of a Dog) — 175

Noam Gil

Isaac Bashevis Singer and the Poetics of Negativity — 194

Part 4: Modern Jewish Thought

Willi Goetschel

Spinoza, Heresy, and the Discourse of Modernity — 209

Gilad Sharvit

The Dialectics of Heresy: Trauma and History in Freud — 228

Agata Bielik-Robson

Liquid Theology and the Messianism of Life: Marrano Heresy in Benjamin and Derrida — 244

Shaul Magid

Is the Academic Study of Judaism Heresy? — 266

List of Contributors — 291

Index — 293