

Contents

Introduction | 9

RUSSIA/UKRAINE

Conspiracy Theories, Discourse Analysis and Narratology

Peter Deutschmann | 19

The News and What Is Behind It: Social Disorder and Conspirational Reading in Mid-Nineteenth-Century Russian Literature

Jens Herlth | 35

Be on the Lookout!

Soviet Conspiracy Drama of the 1920s and 1930s

Valery Vyugin | 61

Alternative Constructions of Reality in Maksim Kurochkin's Play Medea Type Fighter

Evgeniya Safargaleeva | 87

“Thinking Spiritually” about the Last Tsar’s Murder: Religious Discourse and Conspiracy Theories in Late Soviet Russia

Sergei Shtyrkov | 99

Alternative Healing Practices, Conspiracy Theory, and Social Trust in Post-Soviet Russia

Konstantin Bogdanov | 117

The Dulles Plan for Russia: Conspiracy Theories and Moral Panics in Post-Soviet Societies

Alexander Panchenko | 131

Conspiracy Theory and Neoconservative PR Strategies in the 2000–2010s: The Case of Aleksandr Prokhanov

Anna Razuvalova | 145

Plots against Russia: Conspiracy, Sincerity, and Propaganda
Eliot Borenstein | 169

Odessa 2014: Alternative News and Atrocity Narratives on Russian TV
Eva Binder/Magdalena Kaltseis | 185

THE CZECH REPUBLIC

After the Final Full-Stop: Conspiracy Theories vs. Aesthetic Response in Miloš Urban's Poslední tečka za rukopisy
(The Final Full-Stop after the Manuscripts)
Gernot Howanitz | 211

Trauma, Conspiracy, Memento: Representations of the Munich Crisis in Czech Cinema
František A. Podhajský | 229

POLAND

Treason and Conspiracy at the Polish-Ukrainian Border—Sava Chalvi/Sawa Czały
Alois Woldan | 243

Norwid's Critique of Conspiratorial Reason
Christian Zehnder | 261

Truth under Attack, or the Construction of Conspiratorial
Discourses after the Smolensk Plane Crash
Alois Streicher | 279

Wallenrodian* Conspiracy Revisited Twice and Not Quite: Marcin Wolski's Wallenrod
and Szczepan Twardoch's *Wieczny Grunwald
Bob Muilwijk | 301

(POST-)YUGOSLAVIA

“The Conspiracy, or the Roots of the Disintegration of European Society.” Danilo Kiš’s Fictionalization of the Protocols of the Elders of Zion

Dagmar Burkhart | 313

Spying on the Balkan Spy. Paranoia and Conspiracy in the Works of Dušan Kovačević

Goran Lazičić | 333

Books and Leeches: Conspiracy Theory in Yugoslav and Post-Yugoslav Literatures

Davor Beganović | 357

Contributors | 377