

DETAILED CONTENTS

PREFACE	XVII
LIST OF BOXES	XIX
LIST OF FIGURES	XX
LIST OF TABLES	XXI
LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS AND ACRONYMS	XXIII
LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS	XXVIII
BREXIT LATE NEWS	XXIX
1 The European Union and its Member States: An Overview	1
Introduction: Member States Matter	2
How and why member states matter	3
Analysing the Role of Member States in the EU	7
Intergovernmentalism: the member state at the centre of EU bargaining	7
Institutionalism and member state-EU relations	10
Governance approaches and member state-EU relations	12
The 'new' domestic politics of the EU	13
Analysing Europeanization	16
Previewing the Book	18
Further reading	19
Web links	19
References	19
PART I Analysis
2 Member States in European Integration	27
Introduction	28
What is a Member State?	28
The Role of Member States in EU Policy-making	30
Member states and EU institutions	30
Hierarchy and power in relations between EU member states	33
The uncoupling of politics from policy-making in the EU	34
The Return of the Nation-State to Europe?	37
Conclusion	39
Web links	40
Endnotes	41
References	41

3	Europeanization: Concept, Theory, and Methods	47
	Introduction: The Idea of Europeanization	48
	Circling the Object of Study: Defining Europeanization	50
	Bottom-up vs. top-down	51
	Demarcating the concept: what is not Europeanization?	52
	Explaining Europeanization: Theoretical Debates	53
	Goodness of fit and mediating factors	54
	New institutionalism as a theoretical vehicle and alternative models	54
	Analysing Europeanization: Empirical Examples	56
	Policy domains	56
	Politics	56
	Polity	57
	Research design	59
	Conclusion: Future Challenges in Analysing Europeanization	60
	Further reading	61
	Web links	62
	Endnote	62
	References	62

PART II The Member States

4	'France is back' . . . in a French Europe	73
	Introduction	74
	Patterns in France's Membership of the EU	74
	A troubled history	74
	A resilient narrative	76
	The Sleeping Giant Awake: The Ongoing Europeanization of French Politics	78
	A double discourse from governing parties in a multi-crisis Europe	79
	The extreme political forces against Brussels	80
	Macron's Choice for Europe in 2017	82
	Public Opinion: A Twofold Gap	83
	A social gap	83
	A political gap	85
	The Impact of EU Membership on French Institutions: Europeanization Equals Hyper-presidentialization	86
	The primacy of the President and the centrality of the Prime Minister	86
	The French Parliament: still lazy after all these years?	88
	The Europeanization of local and judicial authorities	90
	The Impact of EU Membership on Public Policy: Negotiating the EU Input	91
	A very progressive acknowledgement of EU rules	91
	Four ways of Europeanizing policy-making	93

Conclusion	94
Further reading	95
Web links	95
Endnotes	96
References	97
5 Germany: A German Europe or a Europeanized Germany?	101
Introduction: Germany and European Integration	102
Patterns of Germany–EU Relations	103
Germany and the EU Crises	105
EU Membership and Public Opinion	108
EU Membership and Political Parties	110
EU Membership and Political Institutions	111
Stage 1: EU level decision-making	112
Stage 2: German level decision-making	113
Stage 3: German level implementation	113
Summary: institutions	114
A German Europe or a Europeanized Germany?	115
Pattern 1: integrating the EU	115
Pattern 2: setting policy in the multilevel regime	116
Pattern 3: politicized resistance to Europeanization	117
Conclusion and Outlook	118
Further reading	119
Web links	119
Endnotes	119
References	119
6 Greece: A Critical Test Case of Europeanization	123
Introduction	124
Greece’s EU Membership in Historical Context	125
The Impact of EU Membership on Party Politics and Public Opinion	128
The Impact of EU Membership on Greece’s Governance Structures and Public Policy	134
The Crises: Greece as a Test Case of Europeanization	137
Eurozone crisis	137
Refugee/immigration crisis	140
Conclusion	142
Further reading	144
Web links	144
Endnotes	145
References	145

7	Spain: Pragmatic Europeanism or the End of Unconditional Support for European Integration?	149
	Introduction	150
	The Pattern of Relations with the EU	151
	Commitment and funding	151
	Breakdown in the domestic consensus	152
	Europeanization in the years of crisis	154
	Public Opinion and Political Parties	157
	Public opinion	157
	Political parties and European elections	158
	Impacts on Political Institutions and Governance	159
	Central administration restructuring	159
	Parliament's incremental adaptation	162
	Regional participation in the EU	163
	Judicial Politics	166
	Policy Adaptation	167
	Common agricultural policy	167
	Cohesion policy	167
	Environmental policy	168
	Energy policy	169
	The Lisbon strategy	169
	Justice and home affairs	169
	Common foreign and security policy	170
	A Comparative Appraisal	170
	Conclusions	171
	Further reading	173
	Web links	173
	Endnotes	173
	References	174
8	Sweden: Shedding Exceptionalism in the Face of Europeanization	178
	Introduction	179
	Patterns of Sweden's Membership of the EU	180
	The Public and the Party Political System	183
	Public opinion	183
	Political parties	185
	Political Institutions, Public Administration, and Sub-National Actors	187
	Governance on the political level	187
	Relations between parliament and the government	187
	Political coordination of EU affairs	189
	The civil service	190
	The central administration	190
	Public authorities and agencies	191
	Governance on the local and regional level	192

Public Policy	193
European market integration and the Swedish welfare state	194
The euro and European economic governance	195
Environmental policy	196
Asylum and immigration policy	197
Sweden in a Comparative Perspective	198
Conclusion	199
Further reading	200
Web links	200
References	200
9 Poland: Model European or Awkward Partner?	203
Introduction	204
The Pattern of Relations with the EU from 1989	205
‘Returning to Europe’: European integration in Poland 1989–2004	205
The negotiations	205
A new awkward partner? Relations with the EU 2004–11	207
Difficult relations with the EU: triggering the rule of law procedure	210
Conclusions on the pattern of Polish relations with the EU from 1989	211
The Impact of EU Membership on Public Opinion and Political Parties	211
Public opinion	211
The EU in Polish domestic politics	214
The Impact of EU Integration on Political Institutions and Governance	216
European policy-making in Poland in the 2000s	216
The Polish civil service and administrative capacity	217
The role of the Sejm in the making of Poland’s European policy	218
The Impact of EU Membership on Public Policy	219
Compliance with EU regulations and directives	219
Economic and monetary union (EMU)	220
Structural and regional funds	220
Europeanization of state aids	221
Polish agriculture	221
Poland and EU external policy: relations with the Eastern neighbours	222
Comparisons with the Other Visegrád States	224
Conclusion	225
Further reading	225
Web links	226
Endnotes	226
References	227
10 Bulgaria’s Slow Europeanization	230
Introduction	231
Bulgaria’s Relationship with the EU	232
The Impact of EU Membership on Public Opinion and Political Parties	236
Public opinion	236

Party politics	237
European elections	238
From political stability to destabilization	240
Euroscepticism	242
Russia's challenge	243
Impact of EU Membership on Political Institutions and Governance	244
Europeanization of trade unions	245
The cooperation and verification mechanism	245
Uncertain Impact of EU Membership on National Public Policies	246
Economy and structural funds	246
Demographic crisis	248
Poverty and inclusion	248
Public services	248
The refugee crisis	249
Comparison with Romania	249
Conclusion: More Europeanization or De-Europeanization?	250
Further reading	251
Web links	251
Endnotes	251
References	252
11 The United Kingdom: Towards a Parting of the Ways	257
Introduction	258
Britain and the EU: 1973–2010	259
The Road to Brexit	261
Negotiating Brexit	264
Europeanization, Political Parties, and Public Opinion	265
Political parties	265
Public opinion	268
Europeanization and Institutional Adaptation	270
Europeanization and Public Policy	272
The UK and the Other '1973ers'	274
Conclusion	275
Further reading	275
Web links	276
References	276
12 Contrasting States of Europeanization?	280
Introduction	281
Conceptual and Theoretical Insights	284
Timing of Accession	287
The Worlds of Membership	288
Size	290
Impacts, Perceived Impacts, and Discourse	292

Contestation	293
Impact on Politics, Polity, and Policy	295
Conclusion	296
Further reading	296
Web links	296
References	296
PART III Europeanization
13 Europeanization and Member State Institutions	301
Introduction	302
National Governments and the EU	303
The impact on national governments	303
Interaction between national governments and the EU	308
Parliaments and the EU	310
The impact on national parliaments	311
Interaction with the EU	313
Interaction at EU level	314
Interaction: the national level	316
National Courts	318
Impact on national courts	318
Interaction with the EU	321
Conclusion	321
Further reading	322
Web links	323
Endnotes	323
References	324
14 Europeanization, Euroscepticism, and Politicization in Party Politics	331
Introduction	332
The Domestic Politics and Politicization of European Integration	334
The Permissive Consensus (1957–92)	335
The Decline of the Permissive Consensus and the Emergence of Plebiscitary Politics (1992–2008)	336
European Integration and Crises (2008–)	337
Party-Based Euroscepticism in Contemporary Europe	340
Four Issues of Euroscepticism	341
Patterns of Party Competition	345
Conclusions	348
Further reading	350
Web links	350
Endnotes	350
References	351

15	The Europeanization of Interest Groups and Social Movements	354
	Introduction	355
	Interest Groups vs. Social Movements?	356
	The organization of interest groups and social movements	357
	Europeanization of Interests and Strategies	357
	State–Group Relations	358
	The limits of categorization	359
	Beyond differentiated Europeanization?	362
	Organizational Structures	364
	Europeanization of recruitment strategies	364
	Europeanization of funding	365
	Resistance to European Integration	367
	Conclusion	369
	Further reading	371
	Web links	371
	References	371
16	The Europeanization of Member State Policy	377
	Field and Research Agenda	378
	The Concepts: Europeanization and Public Policy	381
	Adapting to the EU	382
	Positive integration	382
	Negative integration	383
	Facilitated coordination	384
	Mechanisms of Europeanization	384
	Adaptational pressure	384
	Regulatory competition	386
	Learning	387
	Findings	387
	Europeanization in Reverse Gear?	390
	Conclusion	392
	Further reading	392
	Web links	393
	Endnote	393
	References	393
17	Europeanization and Sub-National Authorities (SNAs)	399
	Introduction	400
	SNAs in the EU	401
	Europeanization of SNA Policies: Regional Implementation of EU Policies	402

Europeanization of SNA Politics: EU Impact on Regional Actors, Institutions, and Intergovernmental Relations	403
EU policy coordination	403
Intergovernmental relations	404
Preferences and strategies	405
Administrations and parliaments	406
Bottom-up Europeanization	407
Europeanization of SNA Politics: EU Impact on Territorial Reorganization	407
Federal and decentralized member states	408
Centralized member states	409
Central and Eastern European member states (CEECs)	410
Modest and Differential Impact	412
Conclusion: Assessing Past and Future Research Avenues	413
Further reading	415
Web links	415
Endnote	416
References	416
18 The Europeanization of National Economies?	422
Introduction	423
Challenges of Globalization and Europeanization to Post-War Varieties of Capitalism	426
Money, Macroeconomic Policy, Economic Crises, and Eurozone Governance	431
Political Economic Adjustment in Liberal Market Economies: The UK and Ireland	436
Political Economic Adjustment in Coordinated Market Economies: Germany and Northern Europe	438
Political Economic Adjustment in State-Influenced Market Economies: France and Southern Europe	440
Political Economic Adjustment in Dependent Market Economies: Central and Eastern European Countries	443
Conclusion	445
Further reading	447
Web links	448
Endnote	448
References	448
19 Conclusion	452
Introduction	453
The Challenge of Disintegration	453
Resistance to Europeanization	454
The Difficulties of Exiting the EU	456

xvi Detailed Contents

Enlargement: An EU Still with Pulling Power	457
Europeanization Without Membership	459
Conclusion	460
Further reading	460
Web links	460
References	461

INDEX	463
--------------	------------