

Contents

Klaus Peter Müller (Mainz)

Arbroath 1320 to 2020: 700 Years of Fighting for Freedom, Sovereignty, and Independence in Scotland, England, Europe and the World 9

I. C. 1000–1500: The Middle Ages

Silke Stroh (Münster)

(Post)Colonial Contexts of the Declaration: Conquest, Resistance and the Ambiguities of Writing Back 55

Alexander Broadie (Glasgow)

The Declaration of Arbroath in the Shadow of Scotus 75

Dauvit Broun (Glasgow)

The Declaration of Arbroath and Contractual Kingship: Reading the Deposition Clause in the Middle Ages 91

II. 1500–1800: The Early Modern Age (Renaissance, Reformation, Revolution) and the Enlightenment

Mark P. Bruce (St. Paul)

‘He Is Not a Scot—Christ! Who Is Not Pleased with This Book’: Arbroath, Scotichronicon, and the Production of Scottish Identity 113

Klaus Peter Müller (Mainz)

Concepts of Freedom, Sovereignty, and Independence in the English Revolution: John Milton and the Levellers 131

Murray Pittock (Glasgow)

The Declaration of Arbroath in Scottish Political Thought, 1689–1789 165

Christopher J. Berry (Glasgow)

Ideas of Dependency and Freedom in the Scottish Enlightenment 181

III. 1800–2000: Scottish Diaspora, Romanticism, Imagery, the Industrial Revolution, Political Reforms, Scottish Nationalism

Marjorie Harper (Aberdeen)

Rhetoric and Reality: The Quest for ‘Freedom’ in the Scottish Diaspora 201

Ian Duncan (Berkeley)

Illegitimate History: Scott’s Fictions of Sovereignty 229

John Morrison (Lincoln)

The Declaration of Arbroath and the Absence of Imagery 245

Christopher A. Whatley (Dundee)

Industrialising Scotland and the Nation: Nationalism, Liberty and Independence 267

David R. Sorensen (Philadelphia)

“Auld Round O”: Carlyle, Knox, and the Declaration of Arbroath 289

Richard J. Finlay (Strathclyde)

The Declaration of Arbroath and Scottish Nationalist Constitutional Thought in the Twentieth Century 307

Ewen A. Cameron (Edinburgh)

Scotland’s Hidden Powers? Politics and the Union in an Uncertain Age 325

IV. 20th & 21st Centuries: The Media, the Law, Utopian & Real Struggles for Freedom, Sovereignty, Power, Independence & the Common Weal

Alasdair Allan (MSP for Na h-Eileanan an Iar)

“Coveting Nothing but Our Own”: Arbroath and the Modern Independence Movement 349

Neil Blain (Stirling)

The Declaration as Polyvalent Signifier: The Semiotics of Absence in the Representation of Scotland 365

Ben McConville and Hugh O'Donnell (Glasgow) (Re)Covering the Declaration of Arbroath: International Perspectives on a National Claim of Right	385
David Forrest (Sheffield) Landscapes of Resistance in the English North: The Poetics of Freedom in Kes (1969) and The Selfish Giant (2013)	405
Aileen McHarg (Durham) The Declaration of Arbroath and Scots Law	423
David McCrone (Edinburgh) Declaring Arbroath: Atque Supra Crepidam	443
Edouard Gaudot (Paris/Brussels) Utopia in an Age of Apocalypse: A Reflection on the Politics of Europe and Ecology	467
Anthony Salamone (Edinburgh) Brexit and Scotland's Independence Debate: New Arguments for Autonomy	489
Sarah Longlands (Manchester) Taking Back Control: Devolution, Agency and Brexit in the North of England	509
Ben Wray (Glasgow) The Declaration of Arbroath, Contemporary Nationalist Mythology and the Common Weal	523
Robert Crawford (St Andrews) Afterword: A Public Declaration	535
Contributors	559
Index	571