

Contents

Acknowledgments	page xi
Introduction Anthony Pagden	1
1 Europe: Conceptualizing a Continent Anthony Pagden	33
2 Some Europes in Their History J. G. A. Pocock	55
3 “Europe” in the Middle Ages William Chester Jordan	72
4 The Republican Mirror: The Dutch Idea of Europe Hans W. Blom	91
5 The Napoleonic Empire and the Europe of Nations Biancamaria Fontana	116
6 Homo Politicus and Homo Oeconomicus : The European Citizen According to Max Weber Wilfried Nippel	129
7 The European Self: Rethinking an Attitude Michael Herzfeld	139
8 European Nationalism and European Union Ariane Chebel d’Appollonia	171
9 From the Ironies of Identity to the Identities of Irony Luisa Passerini	191

10	Muslims and European Identity: Can Europe Represent Islam? Talal Asad	209
11	The Long Road to Unity: The Contribution of Law to the Process of European Integration since 1945 Philip Ruttley	228
12	The Euro, Economic Federalism, and the Question of National Sovereignty Elie Cohen	260
13	Identity Politics and European Integration: The Case of Germany Thomas Risse and Daniela Engelmann-Martin	287
14	Nationalisms in Spain: The Organization of Convivencia Andrés de Blas Guerrero	317
15	The Kantian Idea of Europe: Critical and Cosmopolitan Perspectives James Tully	331
	Contributors	359
	Index	363