

Contents

Citation Information	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
1. Introduction: Youth Culture, Popular Music and the End of ‘Consensus’ in Post-War Britain Jon Garland, Keith Gildart, Anna Gough-Yates, Paul Hodgkinson, Bill Osgerby, Lucy Robinson, John Street, Pete Webb & Matthew Worley	1
2. From ‘Dead End Streets’ to ‘Shangri Las’: Negotiating Social Class and Post-War Politics with Ray Davies and the Kinks Keith Gildart	9
3. ‘Bovver’ Books of the 1970s: Subcultures, Crisis and ‘Youth-Sploitation’ Novels Bill Osgerby	35
4. Shot By Both Sides: Punk, Politics and the End of ‘Consensus’ Matthew Worley	69
5. Reggae, Rasta and the Role of the Deejay in the Black British Experience William ‘Lez’ Henry	91
6. ‘A Shock to the System’: Feminist Interventions in Youth Subculture— The Adventures of Shocking Pink Anna Gough-Yates	111
7. Putting the Charity Back into Charity Singles: Charity Singles in Britain 1984–1995 Lucy Robinson	141
Index	163