

Contents

Acknowledgements	v
Preface	vii
PART ONE Background
Introduction	3
1 Second language acquisition research and language pedagogy	5
PART TWO Making research accessible
Introduction	41
2 Grammar teaching and grammar learning	47
3 Options in grammar teaching	77
PART THREE The application of theory
Introduction	99
4 A theory of instructed second language acquisition	107
5 The structural syllabus and second language acquisition	135
6 Acquisition-compatible grammar tasks	149

PART FOUR Second language acquisition research in the classroom

Introduction 169

7 Learning to communicate in the classroom 173

PART FIVE The teacher as researcher

Introduction 199

8 Focused communication tasks 209

9 Micro-evaluation: does a task work? 219

PART SIX Conclusion

Introduction 235

10 Mediation problems 237

Bibliography 253

Index 272