

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: theater, emotions, science of man	1
Diderot's relational drama	10
From religious theaterphobia to theatrical innovation	23
Affect, intentionality, and the history of emotions	28
Chapter 1: Theaterphobia and the transformational power of performance	35
Anti-theatrical criticism: goals and strategies	40
Corneille, Nicole, and the reality of emotions	48
Learning dangerously from the passions: Pierre Nicole's Traité de la comédie	55
Debating theatrical emotions in the wake of Nicole's Traité	62
Chapter 2: "Que sur la superficie de notre cœur": Jean-Baptiste Dubos's theatrical emotions	73
Emotional debates: past and present	76
A different path to aesthetic appreciation	85
The political case for pleasure	91
Dubos's cognitive-affective sequences	95

Contents

Chapter 3: Beyond affect: from Dubos's "passions superficielles" to Houdar de La Motte's "sentiments raisonnables"	107
La Motte, the Querelle , and the Regency	113
La Motte's "sentiments raisonnables"	125
The dramaturgical power of intérêt	131
Chapter 4: From the page to the stage: La Motte's theatrical inquiry into the emotions	141
Context and emotion in Les Macchabées (1721)	145
Intentionality and suspense in Romulus (1722)	153
Inès de Castro (1723) and the emotional politics of intérêt	160
Chapter 5: Strategic passions: Marivaux's Moderne subjectivities	177
Marivaux's trajectory from Moderne to bel esprit to scientist of man	181
Learning from the "organs": Marivaux's intuitive ethics	186
Sentimental strategies: Marivaux's theories of emotion in Le Triomphe de l'amour (1732)	195
Chapter 6: Learning through multiplicité : emotion and distance in the comédie larmoyante	213
The decline and rebirth of Nivelles de La Chaussée's emotional poetics	219
Meaning-making through the romanesque	225
The pièce-cadre : emotion, multiplicité , and spectatorship in La Fausse Antipathie (1733)	235
Conclusion: avant-gardes, emotion, and Enlightenment	257
Works cited	267
Index	281