

Table of Contents

List of Figures.....	9
1. Introduction	11
2. Literature Review	17
2.1 The Friend-Enemy Structure and the Cold War.....	19
2.2 Changes in the Enemy Image: Invisibility, Evil Twins and Specters	29
2.3 Challenging the Friend-Enemy Binary	31
3. Concepts of the Enemy	39
3.1 The Other and the Enemy	39
3.2 Enemy Images and Stereotyping	45
3.3 Representations of the Enemy: A Question of Visibility and Invisibility	49
4. The Cold War Novels: The Visible Soviet Enemy.....	55
4.1 Western Cold War Images of the Soviet Enemy.....	57
4.1.1 The Cold War Climate in the 1950s and 1960s	57
4.1.2 Propaganda, Societal Fears and the Image of the Russians in the West	62
4.2 Fleming's Cold War Novels: The Soviet-Backed Conspiracies.....	74
4.3 The Soviet Enemy – SMERSH	83
4.3.1 Strategies of Credibility and Negative Representations	83
4.3.2 SMERSH – “The Very Whisper of Death”	85
4.3.2.1 Denunciations, Secret Surveillance, Mistrust and Stalin’s Purges.....	93
4.3.2.2 Torture & Sexual Perverts: SMERSH and Representations of Stalin’s Purges	99
4.3.2.3 State Terror: State vs. Citizens	106
5. SPECTRE and the Transition to a New Trend: The Invisible Terrorist Enemy?.....	119
5.1 Invisibilities and Uncertainties in the Blofeld Trilogy	122
5.1.1 Atomic Threat, New ‘Invisible’ Warfare and Spectres.....	135
5.1.2 The Enemy as Integral Part of the Capitalist System: Making the Invisible Visible	141
5.1.3 The Power of Information: SPECTRE as a Self-Made Enemy?	153

5.2	SPECTRE's Transition to Film.....	155
5.2.1	Blofeld and the Visibility-Invisibility Paradox	157
5.2.2	Dr No : Colonial Stereotypes and the Introduction of a Third Power.....	162
5.2.3	SPECTRE and the Cold War Paradox.....	168
5.2.4	Transnational Capitalism and Hyperreality.....	181
5.3	Ideological Madness, Economic Megalomania and National Enemy Images: The Non-Affiliated Bond Enemies of the 1970s and 1980s	186
5.3.1	Economic Megalomania	190
5.3.2	Ideological Madness	197
6.	Post-Wall and Post-9/11 Narratives of Invisibility, Terrorism and the Enemy Within	203
6.1	Revenge Enemies: A Question of Betrayal.....	206
6.1.1	Revenge, National Betrayal and Doubles in GoldenEye	207
6.1.2	Intelligence, Betrayal and Doubles in Skyfall : Similarity and Difference	220
6.1.3	Female Revenge: Invisible Female Authority in The World Is Not Enough	231
6.2	Global Terrorism and the Enemy Within: Quantum and Spectre.....	239
6.2.1	Casino Royale : Uncertainties and Invisibilities	243
6.2.2	Quantum of Solace : Quantum and the Enemy Within.....	260
6.2.3	Moving Closer to Home: Cyberterrorism and London under Attack in Skyfall	270
6.2.4	Spectres and National Crisis in Spectre	277
6.2.4.1	A Spectral Dimension: The Visibility-Invisibility Split	280
6.2.4.2	National Crisis: Surveillance and the Enemy Within.....	283
7.	Conclusion	295
8.	Filmography and Bibliography	301