

CONTENTS

Introduction	7
PART I. CULTURE AND MEMORY	9
Memory as Sign Emanuel Prower	11
Memory and Ontology: Forgetfulness as an Evasion of Being Wojciech Kalaga	29
Non-Memory of L'Écriture Feminine , or Stepping Out of Paradise Marta Zajac	41
Permutations of the Absolute: Archetypal Memory of Mass Culture Marzena Kubisz	51
Myth, Memory, and Postcolonial Resistance: The Fiction of Wilson Harris and Gabriel García Márquez Patricia Murray	61
PART II. MEMORY, PRESENCE, IDENTITY	81
Mrs. Dalloway and the Finite Transcendental: Existence, Time, and Transcendence in Woolf, Husserl and Derrida Martin Murray	83

The Forgetful Memory of Blanchot Liliana Barakońska, Małgorzata Nitka	99
Self-Insription and Self-Oblivion Leszek Drong	109
Reality or Nothing? Virtuality, Memory & Death Margaret Llewelyn-Jones	123
 PART III. MEMORY: THE HIDDEN TOPOS	 145
Poor Retention and the Rehearsing of Being: The Claim to Poetical Immortality in Shakespeare's Sonnets Jacek Mydla	145
"The lopped branches" - an Interpretation of the Motif of Magic Forgetfulness in William Shakespeare's Cymbeline and Pericles . Andrzej Wicher	163
The Dead of Memory Sławomir Mastoń	181
The Poetic Exit Noël Gray	189