

Contents

1 Food Anxiety: Ambivalences Around Body and Identity, Food Safety, and Security	1
Judith Ehlert and Nora Katharina Faltmann
Part I Bodily Transgressions: Identity, Othering, and Self	41
2 Power Struggles and Social Positioning: Culinary Appropriation and Anxiety in Colonial Vietnam	43
Erica J. Peters
3 Forbidden from the Heart: Flexible Food Taboos, Ambiguous Culinary Transgressions, and Cultural Intimacy in Hoi An, Vietnam	77
Nir Avieli
4 Obesity, Biopower, and Embodiment of Caring: Foodwork and Maternal Ambivalences in Ho Chi Minh City	105
Judith Ehlert

Part II	Food Safety: Trust, Responsibilisation, and Coping	137
5	Trust and Food Modernity in Vietnam Muriel Figuié, Paule Moustier, Nicolas Bricas, and Nguyen Thi Tan Loc	139
6	Between Food Safety Concerns and Responsibilisation: Organic Food Consumption in Ho Chi Minh City Nora Katharina Faltmann	167
7	Urban Gardening and Rural-Urban Supply Chains: Reassessing Images of the Urban and the Rural in Northern Vietnam Sandra Kurfürst	205
Part III	The Politics of Food Security	233
8	From Food Crisis to Agrarian Crisis? Food Security Strategy and Rural Livelihoods in Vietnam Timothy Gorman	235
9	When Food Crosses Borders: Paradigm Shifts in China's Food Sectors and Implications for Vietnam Hongzhou Zhang	267
10	Concluding Remarks: Anxiety as Invariant of Human Relation to Food Jean-Pierre Poulain	301