

Contents

1	Introduction	1
	1.1 John Winthrop, Jr.	3
	References	7
2	The Puritan Mind in the Seventeenth Century	9
	2.1 The Quiet Reformation	11
	References	13
3	The Errand into the Wilderness	15
	References	21
4	John Winthrop, Jr.: The Making of an Adept	23
	4.1 Wanderjahre	27
	4.2 The Massachusetts Bay Company	31
	References	32
5	Ipswich: Founding a Town in New England	33
	5.1 Recruiting Trip to England	35
	5.2 Saltworks	39
	5.3 Robert Child (1613–1654)	41
	References	42
6	Return to England (1641) and the New England Ironworks	43
	6.1 Francis Bacon and the Great Instauration	45
	6.2 Ironworks at Braintree	45
	References	50
7	New London and the Alchemical Plantation	51
	7.1 Antimony	55
	7.2 Saltpeter	55
	7.3 The Leading Citizen of Connecticut	59
	References	60

8	Obtaining the Charter for Connecticut and Election to the Royal Society of London	61
	8.1 Cotton Mather and the Royal Society	67
	References	69
9	The Winthrop Circle in New England	71
	9.1 Thomas Shepard (1605–1649)	72
	9.2 Robert Child (1613–1654)	73
	9.3 George Stirk (1628–1665)	76
	9.4 Richard Leader (1609–1661)	77
	9.5 Jonathan Brewster (1593–1659)	78
	9.6 Gershom Bulkeley (1636–1713)	79
	9.7 Emmanuel Downing (1585–1660)	79
	References	81
10	Harvard College and Seventeenth Century Chemistry	83
	10.1 Cotton Mather (1663–1728)	85
	10.2 Michael Wigglesworth (1631–1705)	86
	10.3 Edward Taylor (1643–1729, Harvard M.A. 1671)	86
	10.4 Samuel Lee (1625–1691, Oxford M.A. 1648)	87
	10.5 Thomas Palmer (1666–1743)	87
	References	89
11	Conclusions and Reflections	91
	References	94