

Contents

Copyright Acknowledgements	ix
Prelude	x
1 The Eatingest Epic	1
I Supper in the Odyssey	1
II A Good Meal as an Affirmation of Transience	3
III Helen's Opiate	9
IV The Vital Importance of Stories	10
V The Odyssey as a Story about a Storyteller	12
VI Identity and Names	20
VII Recognitions	22
VIII The Shades in Hades	28
IX Justice in the Odyssey	30
X The Odyssey as an Affirmation of Life	35
Interlude <sup>1</sup>	37
2 Dionysus	45
I Euripides' Bacchae	45
II The Dionysian Journey of Lawrence Osborne	58
III William James as a Dionysian	61
IV Nietzsche's The Birth of Tragedy	66
Interlude <sup>2</sup>	75
3 Socrates	79
I The Symposium	79
II Socrates' Metaphorical Feast	86
III Recollection in Plato's Phaedo	90
IV Christianity: Spiritual Nourishment	94
V Homer's Nightmare: Soylent	100

Interlude <sup>3</sup>	105
4 Aristotle	117
I The Four Issues of This Book	117
II Aristotle as Zoologist	120
III Form as Species	121
IV Aristotle as Apollinian	124
V The Nutritive Psuchê	127
VI The Perceptive Psuchê	133
VII The Generation of Animals	137
VIII Aristotle's Intellect	138
IX Is the Psuchê Immortal?	143
X What Is Knowing?	146
XI The Fractured Psuchê	150
Postlude	153
Notes	163
Bibliography	167
Index	169