

Contents

Introduction. Global Eastern Orthodoxy: Religion, Politics and Human Rights	1
Giuseppe Giordan and Siniša Zrinščak
Part I Human Rights Between Religion and Politics
Orthodox Christianity and Modern Human Rights: Theorising Their Nexus and Addressing Orthodox Specificities	13
Vasilios N. Makrides
The Russian Orthodox Church and the Global World	41
Kathy Rousselet
The Russian Orthodox Church's Approach to Human Rights	59
Kristina Stoeckl
The Great and Holy Council and the Orthodox Churches in the Public Sphere	77
Emmanuel Clapsis
Religion and Human Rights in Greece	101
Effie Fokas
Religious Freedom in Context: A Comparison Between Belarus and Romania	125
Olga Breskaya and Silviu Rogobete
Greek-Cypriot Religiocultural Heritage as an Indicator of Fundamental Rights and a Means to Cultural Diplomacy	149
Georgios E. Trantas

Part II Orthodox Diaspora and Identity in the Global World

Orthodoxy Going Global: The Quest for Identity	175
Maria Hämmerli
Singing an Old Song in a New Land: Orthodox Christian Churches in the Twenty-First Century America	193
Alexei Krindatch
Orthodox Christianity in a Western Catholic Country	219
Marco Guglielmi
Greek Diaspora in Germany: Church as the Ecclesia's Forerunner and Point of Reference	241
Eleni D. Tseligka
Index	259