

Contents

1	Introduction: Socio-scientific Issues as Promoting Responsible Citizenship and the Relevance of Science	1
	Maria Evagorou and Justin Dillon
2	Teachers and Socioscientific Issues – An Overview of Recent Empirical Research	13
	Jan Alexis Nielsen
3	Pre-service Secondary Science Teachers’ Beliefs About Teaching Socio-scientific Issues	21
	Jessica S. C. Leung, Ka Lok Wong, and Kennedy K. H. Chan
4	Socio-Scientific Inquiry-Based Learning: Possibilities and Challenges for Teacher Education	41
	Ruth Amos, Marie-Christine Knippels, and Ralph Levinson
5	Critical and Active Public Engagement in Addressing Socioscientific Problems Through Science Teacher Education	63
	John Lawrence Bencze, Sarah El Halwany, and Majd Zouda
6	Supporting Teachers in the Design and Enactment of Socio-Scientific Issue-Based Teaching in the USA	85
	Patricia J. Friedrichsen, Troy D. Sadler, and Laura Zangori
7	Gamification of SSI’s as a Science Pedagogy: Toward a Critical Rationality in Teaching Science	101
	James P. Davis and Alberto Bellocchi
8	Science Teachers as Proponents of Socio-Scientific Inquiry-Based Learning: From Professional Development to Classroom Enactment	117
	Rachel Cohen, Eran Zafrani, and Anat Yarden

- 9 Getting Ready to Work with Socio-Scientific Issues
in the Classroom: A Study with Argentine Teachers 133
Melina Furman, Inés Taylor, Mariana Luzuriaga, and María Eugenia Podestá
- 10 Introducing Model-Based Instruction for SSI Teaching in Primary Pre-service Teacher Education 153
Anna Garrido Espeja and Digna Couso
- 11 Re-thinking the Integration of Socioscientific Issues
in Life Sciences Classrooms Within the Context of Decolonising the Curriculum 173
Ronicka Mudaly
- 12 New Perspectives for Addressing Socioscientific
Issues in Teacher Education 193
Jan Alexis Nielsen, Maria Evagorou, and Justin Dillon