

Contents

List of figures	ix
Acknowledgements	xvii
MELISSA PERCIVAL, Introduction	1
EMMANUEL FAURE-CARRICABURU, The fantasy figures of Jean-Baptiste Santerre and the limits of generic frameworks of interpretation	15
CHRISTOPHE GUILLOUET, The Parisian world of printmaking at the heart of the invention of a genre? Poilly, Courtin and Bonnart's fantaisies (1713-1728)	29
JOHN CHU, Windows of opportunity: the French fantasy figure and the spirit of enterprise in early-eighteenth-century Europe	49
MARTIN POSTLE, Modelling for the fancy picture in eighteenth-century England	69
BÉNÉDICTE MIYAMOTO, The influence of drawing manuals on the British practice and reception of fancy pictures	87
GUILLAUME FAROULT, A galant fantasy: Fragonard's fantasy figures and The Music lesson in relation to Van Dyck, Watteau and Carle Vanloo	105
PIERRE-HENRI BIGER, Fans, fantasy and fancy	121
MELISSA PERCIVAL, Fancy as a mode of consumption	135
VANESSA ALAYRAC-FIELDING, 'A butterfly supporting an elephant': chinoiserie, fantaisie and 'the luxuriance of fancy'	153

Contents

LAURENT CHÂTEL, The garden as capriccio : the hortulan pleasures of imagination and virtuality	171
BÉATRICE LAURENT, Grand Tour capricci	191
XAVIER CERVANTES, Venetian reminiscences and cultural hybridity in Canaletto's English-period capricci and vedute	207
ADRIÁN FERNÁNDEZ ALMOGUERA, From the private cabinet to the suburban villa: caprices and fantasies in eighteenth-century Madrid	223
ANDREW SCHULZ, Satire and fantasy in Goya's Caprichos	241
ALICE LABOURG, 'Fancy paints with hues unreal': pictorial fantasy and literary creation in Ann Radcliffe's Gothic novels	259
Summaries	279
List of contributors	285
Bibliography	289
Index	313