

Contents

Abbreviations	7
List of Illustrations	9
Stephan Conermann / Gül Şen
Slavery is Not Slavery: On Slaves and Slave Agency in the Ottoman Empire, Introduction	11
General Considerations
Ehud R. Toledano
Models of Global Enslavement	31
Comparative Perspectives
Suraiya Faroqhi
Slave Agencies Compared: The Ottoman and Mughal Empires	55
Christoph Witzenrath
Agency in Muscovite Archives: Trans-Ottoman Slaves Negotiating the Moscow Administration	87
Gül Şen
Galley Slaves and Agency: The Driving Force of the Ottoman Fleet	131
Palace Slaves
Jane Hathaway
The Ottoman Chief Harem Eunuch (Darüssaade Ağası) as Commissioner of Illuminated Manuscripts: The Slave as Patron, Subject, and Artist? . . .	167

Betül İpşirli Argıt Manumitted Female Palace Slaves and Their Material World	189
---	-----

Slaves in Legal Texts

Veruschka Wagner “Speaking Property” with the Capacity to Act: Slave Interagency in the 16th- and 17th-Century Istanbul Court Registers	213
---	-----

Yehoshua Frenkel Slavery in 17th-Century Ottoman Jerusalem in light of Several Sharia Court Records	237
---	-----

Joshua M. White Slavery, Manumission, and Freedom Suits in the Early Modern Ottoman Empire	283
--	-----

Trading Slaves

Zübeyde Güneş Yağcı Slave Traders (Esirciler) in the Ottoman Istanbul	321
---	-----

Slaves on the Periphery

Natalia Królikowska-Jedlińska The Role of Circassian Slaves in the Foreign and Domestic Policy of the Crimean Khanate in the Early Modern Period	355
--	-----

After Abolition

Sarah Buessow / Johann Buessow Domestic Workers and Slaves in Late Ottoman Palestine at the Moment of the Abolition of Slavery: Considerations on Semantics and Agency . . .	373
--	-----

Notes on Contributors	435
---------------------------------	-----

Index	439
-----------------	-----