

Contents

Preface vii

Chapter 1 The Nature of the Report and the Main Results 1

The Three Phases of the ICP 1

What is new in this report? 2

What is still to be done? 2

ICP Methods in Brief 3

Organizing the data 4

Binary comparisons 4

Multilateral comparisons 5

The Main Results 7

GDP in national currencies, U.S. dollars, and international dollars 7

Consumption, capital formation, and government 14

Comparisons for the commodity and service components of GDP 17

The General Approach to Phase II Data Requirements 24

The Expenditure Data 25

The expenditure framework 25

Accounting problems 28

Treatment of the expenditure data 30

Comparisons of Phase II and Phase I

1970 expenditure data 31

Consumption 32

Price collection in individual countries 32

Revisions of 1970 prices for the original ten countries 32

Price collection in the new countries 33

Categories requiring special treatment 35

Automobiles 36

Rents 39

Capital Formation 46

Construction 48

Producers' durables 50

Government 51

Appendix 1. The International Comparison Project: updating worksheet 52

Appendix 2. The International Comparison Project: classification system 54

Chapter 2 Data and Procedures 24

Chapter 3
A Summary of Methods 68
	Binary Methods 68
	Multilateral Methods 71
	Desired properties 71
	Aggregation at the category level 71
	Aggregation of the categories 73
	Supercountries 76
	Consequences of Alternative Procedures 77
	Sources of change in the 1970 Phase II estimates 78
	An alternative approach to the 1973 estimates 79
	Alternative aggregation methods and measures of precision 81
Chapter 4
Results of the Multilateral
Comparisons 85
	An Explanation of the Tables 85
	Comparisons of the Structure of Expenditures, Prices, and Quantities for Five Groups of Countries 116
	Comparisons for Commodities and Services and for Traded and Nontraded Goods 123
	Approximations to Real GDP per Capita for Other Years 128
	Some methodological problems 128
	Approximations for 1965-75 133
	Appendix 1. Detailed Multilateral Tables 135
	Appendix 2. Relative Price Structures for the Phase II Countries 167
Chapter 5
Results of the Binary
Comparisons 172
	GDP Comparisons 173
	Comparisons for Subaggregates 221
	Appendix. Detailed Binary Table 223
Chapter 6
Some Relations Between Quantities and Prices 232
	The Similarity of Quantity and Price Structures 232
	Analysis of similarity indexes 234
	Regression analysis 236
	Demand Analyses 239
	Summary categories 241
	Detailed categories 244
	Category and Country Influence on Relative Prices 244
	The demand side 247
	The supply side 251
	Summary 253
Glossary 255
Index 259	