

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Notes on the Contributors	ix
Introduction	i
Sue Kennedy and Jane Thomas

PART I: Visions of 'This Island', 1930–1960

- 1 Lower-middle-class Domestic Leisure in Woman's Weekly, 1930 17
Eleanor Reed
- 2 Pacifism, Fascism and the Crisis of Civilization:
Vera Brittain, Storm Jameson and Nancy Mitford in the 1930s 37
Natasha Periyar
- 3 'Unsettled and Unsettling' Women: Migrant Voices
After the War 53
Maroula Joannou

PART II: Women Bearing Witness: The Temperature of War

- 4 'The Lure of Pleasure': Sex and the Married Girl in Marghanita Laski's To Bed with Grand Music (1946) 73
Sue Kennedy
- 5 Supporting and Resisting the Myth of the Blitz: Ambiguity
in Susan Ertz's Anger in the Sky (1943) 91
Lola Serraf

6	The Ambivalence of Testimony in Elizabeth Bowen's The Heat of the Day (1948) Ana Ashraf	109
7	Re-presenting Wrens: Nancy Spain's Thank you – Nelson (1945), Eileen Bigland's The Story of the WRNS (1946), Vera Laughton Matthews's Blue Tapestry (1948) and Edith Pargeter's She Goes to War (1942) Chris Hopkins	123
PART III: Women Writing Men: Interwar, War and Aftermath
8	'We Must Feed the Men': Pamela Hansford Johnson and the Negotiation of Postwar Guilt Gill Plain	145
9	Men of the House: Oppressive Husbands and Displaced Wives in Interwar, War and Postwar Women's Fiction (Daphne du Maurier, Dorothy Whipple, Elizabeth Taylor) Lucy Hall	161
10	British Women Writing War: The Novels of Storm Jameson Katherine Cooper	179
PART IV: New Realities for Women: A Forward Glance
11	Barbara Comyns and New Directions in Women's Writing Nick Turner	197
12	A New Reality: Shelagh Delaney's A Taste of Honey (1958) Maria Elena Capitani	215
13	Stevie Smith: Poetry and Personality James Underwood	233
14	'Whoever She Was': Penelope Mortimer, Beyond the Feminine Mystique Jane Thomas	251
	Index	271