

Contents

| | |
|---|-------|
| Citation Information | vii |
| Notes on Contributors | ix |
| Introduction: Early Modern Literature and England's Long Reformation David Loewenstein and Alison Shell | 1 |
| 1. Mirroring the "Long Reformation": Translating Erasmus' Colloquies in Early Modern England Cathy Shrank | 7 |
| 2. "Straunge and Prodigious Miracles"? John Foxe's Reformation of Virgin Martyr Legends Thomas S. Freeman and Susannah Brietz Monta | 24 |
| 3. Astrology and Religion in the Long Reformation: "Doctor Faustus in Swadling Clouts" Phebe Jensen | 40 |
| 4. "Superstition Remains at This Hour": The Friers Chronicle (1623) and England's Long Reformation Harriet Lyon | 55 |
| 5. Theology, Plain and Simple: Biblical Hermeneutics, Language Philosophy, and Trinitarianism in the Seventeenth Century Kristen Poole | 70 |
| 6. "Not Revenged, nor Repented of": Martyrs and England's Long Reformation Karl Gunther | 86 |
| 7. Preaching the "Long Reformation" in the English Revolution Ann Hughes | 99 |
| 8. Milton and the Creation of England's Long Reformation David Loewenstein | 113 |

| | |
|--|-----|
| 9. Working, across the Very Long Reformation: Four Models James Simpson | 129 |
| 10. Sacrilege, Tractarian Fiction and the Very Long Reformation Alison Shell | 143 |
| Index | 158 |