
CONTENTS

List of Figures	ix
List of Tables	xi
Preface	xiii

1

Contractarian State, Welfare State, and Constitutional Order	1
The Contractarian State	2
The Welfare State	8
Justification, Competence, and the Welfare State	10
Transfers, Market Processes, and Income Redistribution	12
Public Choice, Constitutional Order, and the General Welfare	14

2

The Welfare State: Approaches to Justification	21
Income Distribution in a Contractarian State	22
Approaches to Redistributive Argument	29

Income Redistribution as Collective Charity	31
The Difference Principle	33
Uncertainty and Social Insurance	36
Outcomes versus Opportunities	39

3

Policy Norms and the Question of State Competence	45
Knowledge, Incentive, and the Problem of Competence	45
Dissonance between Rationale and Reality?	48
Knowledge, Incentive, and Policy Failure	51
Market Forces as Constraints on State Action	57
Recipient Competition and the Dissipation of State Transfers	59
Personified States and Real Governments	61
Norm, Reality, and the Transfer State	62

4

Taxation and Income Redistribution	67
Government and the Redistribution of Income	68
Assessing the Redistributive Effect of Taxation	72
Labor-Market Offsets to Progressive Taxation	77
Social Costs of Redistributive Taxation	86

5

Public Spending and Income Redistribution	89
Redistribution through Public Expenditure	90
The Shifting and Incidence of Public Expenditure	92
Market-Generated Offsets to Redistributive Spending	95

Social Costs of Transfer Spending	100
Varieties of Income Redistribution	104

6

Regulation and the Welfare State	107
Substitutability of Police and Budget Powers	108
The Regulatory State as Welfare State	110
Minimum Wage Legislation	112
Working in Homemade Sweatshops	117
Unionization and Occupational Licensure	120
Jitneys, Taxicabs, and Urban Transit	126
Rent Control	128
The Problem of Induction and Generalization	130

7

The Market for Legislation in a Republican Polity	133
Constitutional versus Majoritarian Democracy	134
Majoritarian Democracy as Republican Disease	138
Majoritarian Democracy and Minority Dominance	144
Legislation and the Market for Public Policy	148
The Welfare State and the Market for Legislation	152

8

The Transfer Society and the Welfare State	155
Transfer Seeking in the Welfare State	156
Wealth, Poverty, and the Welfare State	160
Samaritan's Dilemma and Personal Choice	164
The Samaritan's Dilemma and Collective Choice	170
Bureaucracy and the Welfare State	173
The Welfare Bureaucracy and the Legislature	176

9
The Welfare State versus the General Welfare	179
Social Security as Democratic Fraud	180
Status versus Contract in the Provision of Personal Security	185
Status, Contract, Transfer Seeking, and Race	190
Principles for Welfare Reform	193
10
Welfare Reform, Constitutional Reform, and the General Welfare	199
Welfare Reform or Political Reform?	199
Constitutional Remedies for Majoritarian Democracy	201
Normative Principles for Constitutional Construction	205
Economic Calculation and the Conduct of Government	207
Knut Wicksell, Economic Calculation, and Constitutional Principle	209
Contemporary Constitutional Options	212
In Summation	215
Selected Bibliography	219
Index	225
About the Author	237