

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vii
Histories of Carolingian Historiography: An Introduction HELMUT REIMITZ	1
Carolingian Uses of History
From the Order of the Franks to the World of Ambrose: The Vita Adalhardi and the Epitaphium Arsenii Compared MAYKE DE JONG	39
Remembering the Ostrogoths in the Carolingian Empire MATTHIAS M. TISCHLER	65
A Carolingian Epitome of Orosius from Tours: Leiden VLQ 20 ROBERT EVANS and ROSAMOND MCKITTERICK	123
Approaches to History: Walahfrid's Parallel Universe RICHARD CORRADINI	155
Carolingian Histories
Enhancing Bede: The Chronicon universale to 741 SÖREN KASCHKE	201
A Crowning Achievement: Carolingian Imperial Identity in the Chronicon Moissiacense RUTGER KRAMER	231

Much Ado about Vienne? A Localizing Universal Chronicon SUKANYA RAISHARMA	271
The Sense of an Ending in the Histories of Frechulf of Lisieux GRAEME WARD	291
Uses of Carolingian History
Historiography of Disillusion: Erchempert and the History of Ninth-Century Southern Italy WALTER POHL	319
'A Man of Notable Good Looks Disfigured by a Cruel Wound': The Forest Misadventure of Charles the Young of Aquitaine (864) in History and Legend ERIC J. GOLDBERG	355
Index	387

List of Illustrations

- Figure 1, p. 361, Napoleon hunting in the Forêt d'Compiègne by Carle Vernet (1811).
- Figure 2, p. 375, Charlot ambushes Huon of Bordeaux by Manuel Orazi (1898).