

Contents

Marc-Olivier Hinzelin, Natascha Pomino and Eva-Maria Remberger
Romance Morphosyntax: Interpreting data from a theoretical perspective — 1

Part 1: Agreement

Doreen Georgi and Elisabeth Stark
Past participle agreement in French – one or two rules? — 19

Thom Westveer, Petra Sleeman and Enoch O. Aboh
Competing genders: French partitive constructions between grammatical and semantic gender — 49

Part 2: Clitics and Null Subjects

Antonio Fábregas and Teresa Cabré
Towards a syntactic account of ungrammatical clitic sequences and their repairs — 91

Michael Zimmermann
Investigating the setting of the null-subject parameter in Early Classical French — 117

Part 3: Functional Categories and the Verb

Silvio Cruschina and Andrea Calabrese
Fifty shades of morphosyntactic microvariation — 145

Dalina Kallulli
Issues in the morpho-syntax and semantics of Voice in Romance and beyond — 199

Barbara Schirakowski
What constrains the formation of Spanish nominalized infinitives? — 225

Lena Baunaz and Genoveva Puskás
Complementizer functional sequence: the contribution of Italo-Romance — 251