

Table of Contents

Preface	V
Benedikt Hensel
The History of the Jacob Cycle in Recent Research: An Introduction to the Volume	1
Konrad Schmid
Shifting Political Theologies in the Literary Development of the Jacob Cycle	11
Friederike Neumann
Jacob, Laban, and the Two Daughters: Insights into the Formation of the Jacob-Laban Story (Genesis 29–31)	35
Benedikt Hensel
Edom in the Jacob Cycle (Gen *25–35): New Insights on Its Positive Relations with Israel, the Literary-Historical Development of Its Role, and Its Historical Background(s)	57
Jakob Wöhrle
Jacob from Israel and Jacob from Judah: Reflections on the Formation and the Historical Backgrounds of the Jacob Story	135
Christian Frevel
Jacob as Father of the Twelve Tribes: Literary and Historical Considerations	155
Guy Darshan
The Priestly Account of the End of Jacob’s Life: The Significance of Text-Critical Evidence	183
Aharon Tavger
“And He Called the Name of that Place Bethel” (Gen 28: 19): Historical-Geography and Archaeology of the Sanctuary of Bethel	201

List of Contributors 223

Index of Sources 225

Index of Subjects 234