

Contents

Advisory editorial board ii
Preface xvii
About the authors xxi
Publisher's acknowledgements xxiii
Guided tour xxiv
Web tour xxvi

1 Introducing social psychology 3

What is social psychology? 4
    Social psychology and related disciplines 5
    Topics of social psychology 7
Methodological issues 8
    Scientific method 8
    Experiments 9
    Non-experimental methods 13
    Data and analysis 14
Research ethics 18
    Physical welfare of participants 18
    Respect for privacy 18
    Use of deception 18
    Informed consent 19
    Debriefing 19
Theoretical issues 20
    Theories in social psychology 21
    The 'crisis' in social psychology 23
    Reductionism and levels of explanation 23
    Positivism 25
Historical context 26
    Social psychology in the nineteenth century 26
    The rise of experimentation 27
    Later influences 29
    The journals 32
Social psychology in Europe 33
About this book 35
Summary 37
Literature, film and TV 38
Learn more 38

2 Social cognition and social thinking 41

Social psychology and cognition 42
    A history of cognition in social psychology 42

Forming impressions of other people	44
Asch's configural model	44
Biases in forming impressions	45
Cognitive algebra	47
Social schemas and categories	50
Types of schema	51
Categories and prototypes	52
Categorisation and stereotyping	54
Schema use and development	56
Schema use	56
Acquisition, development and change	59
Social encoding	61
Saliency	61
Vividness	62
Accessibility	63
Person memory	63
Contents of person memory	64
Organisation of person memory	65
Using person memory	66
Social inference	68
Departures from normality	68
Heuristics	71
Improving social inference	72
Affect and emotion	73
Antecedents of affect	73
Consequences of affect	74
Where is the 'social' in social cognition?	74
Summary	76
Literature, film and TV	77
Learn more	77

3 Attribution and social knowledge 81

Social explanation	82
Basic attribution processes	82
Heider's theory of naive psychology	82
Jones and Davis's theory of correspondent inference	84
Kelley's covariation model	85
Extensions of attribution theory	88
Emotional lability	88
Self-perception theory	89
Weiner's attributional theory	89
Applications of attribution theory	90
Individual differences and attributional styles	91
Interpersonal relationships	92
Biases in attribution	93
The fundamental attribution error	93
The actor–observer effect	95
The false consensus effect	97
Self-serving biases	98
Intergroup attribution	100
Attribution and stereotyping	103

- Social knowledge and societal attributions 103
  - Social representations 104
  - Rumour 105
  - Conspiracy theories 106
  - Societal attributions 107
  - Culture's contribution 108
- Summary 110
- Literature, film and TV 110
- Learn more 111

4 Self and identity 113

- Who are you? 114
- Self and identity in historical context 114
  - Psychodynamic self 115
  - Individual versus collective self 115
  - Collective self 116
  - Symbolic interactionist self 116
- Self-awareness 119
- Self-knowledge 120
  - Self-schemas 120
  - Inferences from our behaviour 122
  - Social comparison and self-knowledge 124
- Selves and identities 125
  - Types of self and identity 125
  - Contextual sensitivity of self and identity 126
  - In search of self-conceptual coherence 126
- Social identity 127
  - Social identity and personal identity 127
  - Processes of social identity salience 127
  - Some consequences of social identity salience 129
- Self-motives 130
  - Self-assessment and self-verification 130
  - Self-enhancement 130
- Self-esteem 132
  - Self-esteem and social identity 134
  - Individual differences 136
  - In pursuit of self-esteem 138
- Self-presentation and impression management 139
  - Strategic self-presentation 139
  - Expressive self-presentation 140
- Cultural differences in self and identity 141
- Summary 144
- Literature, film and TV 145
- Learn more 146

5 Attitudes 149

- Structure and function of attitudes 150
  - Background 150
  - How many components? 151
  - Function of attitudes 152
  - Cognitive consistency 153

Cognition and evaluation	155
Decision making and attitudes	156
Can attitudes predict behaviour?	156
Beliefs, intentions and behaviour	158
Attitude accessibility	166
Attitude strength	167
Moderator variables	169
Forming attitudes	171
Behavioural approaches	172
Cognitive development	174
Sources of learning	175
Concepts related to attitudes	175
Values	175
Ideology	176
Social representations	177
Measuring attitudes	179
Thurstone's method of equal-appearing intervals	181
Likert's method of summated ratings	182
Guttman's scalogram method	184
Osgood's semantic differential	186
Fishbein's expectancy-value technique	187
The use of attitude scales today	187
Physiological measures	188
Measures of overt behaviour	189
Problems and solutions in measuring attitudes	190
Measuring covert attitudes	192
Concluding thoughts on measuring attitudes	193
Summary	194
Literature, film and TV	195
Learn more	195

6 Persuasion and attitude change 199

Attitudes, arguments and behaviour	200
Persuasive communications	200
The communicator	204
The message	206
The audience	210
Cognitive responding: two dual-process models of persuasion	213
Compliance: interpersonal influence	217
Tactics for enhancing compliance	217
Action research	222
Attitude-behaviour discrepancy and cognitive dissonance	223
Effort justification	226
Induced compliance	228
Free choice	232
Reducing dissonance indirectly: the role of self	232
Alternative views to dissonance	233
Cognitive dissonance: another look	235
When attitude change fails: resistance to persuasion	235
Reactance	235
Forewarning	235

- The inoculation effect 236
- Role of attitude strength 238
- Summary 239
- Literature, film and TV 239
- Learn more 240

7 Social influence 243

- Types of social influence 244
  - Compliance, obedience, conformity 244
  - Power and influence 245
- Obedience to authority 248
  - Milgram's obedience studies 248
  - Factors influencing obedience 250
  - Some ethical considerations 252
- Conformity 253
  - The formation and influence of norms 253
  - Yielding to majority group pressure 255
  - Who conforms? Individual and group characteristics 258
  - Situational factors in conformity 259
  - Normative and informational influence 261
  - Referent informational influence 262
- Minority influence and social change 263
  - Critique of conformity research 264
  - Influence of behavioural style 265
  - Group membership and social identity 267
  - Conversion 267
  - Attribution and minority influence 270
  - Social impact and minority influence 271
  - Two processes or one? 271
- Summary 272
- Literature, film and TV 272
- Learn more 273

8 People in groups 275

- What is a group? 276
  - Groups as categories 276
  - Groups and aggregates 277
  - Definitions 277
- The effect of the group on individual performance 278
  - Mere presence and audience effects: social facilitation 278
  - Classification of group tasks 284
  - Social loafing and social impact 286
- Group cohesiveness 291
- Group socialisation 295
- Norms 300
- Group structure 303
  - Roles 303
  - Status 305
  - Communication networks 307
  - Subgroups and crosscutting categories 309

Deviants and marginal members	309
Why do people join groups?	310
Reasons for joining groups	310
Motivations for affiliation and group formation	311
Why not join groups?	312
Summary	312
Literature, film and TV	313
Learn more	313

9 Leadership and decision making 315

Leaders and group decisions	316
Leadership	316
Personality traits	317
Situational perspectives	318
The behaviour of leaders	319
Contingency theory	322
Leadership as a group process	325
Group decision making	331
Brainstorming	333
Group memory	335
Groupthink	339
Group polarisation	341
Jury decision-making	344
Summary	346
Literature, film and TV	346
Learn more	347

10 Prejudice and discrimination 349

Nature and dimensions of prejudice	350
Prejudiced attitudes and discriminatory behaviour	351
Targets of prejudice and discrimination	353
Sexism	353
Racism	360
Ageism	364
Discrimination against homosexuals	365
Discrimination on the basis of physical or mental handicap	366
Forms of discrimination	367
Reluctance to help	367
Tokenism	368
Reverse discrimination	368
Stigma and other effects of prejudice	369
Social stigma	369
Self-worth, self-esteem and psychological well-being	370
Stereotype threat	372
Failure and disadvantage	373
Attributional ambiguity	373
Self-fulfilling prophecies	373
Violence and genocide	376
Explanations of prejudice and discrimination	377
Frustration–aggression	378

The authoritarian personality	381
Dogmatism and closed-mindedness	383
Right-wing authoritarianism	383
Social dominance theory	384
Belief congruence	384
Other explanations	387
Summary	387
Literature, film and TV	388
Learn more	388

11 Intergroup behaviour 391

What is intergroup behaviour?	392
Relative deprivation and social unrest	392
Relative deprivation	394
Social protest and collective action	397
Realistic conflict	398
Realistic conflict theory	400
Cooperation, competition and social dilemmas	401
Social identity	405
Minimal groups	405
Social identity approach	408
Social cognition	415
Categorisation and relative homogeneity	415
Memory	417
Distinctive stimuli and illusory correlation	418
Optimal distinctiveness	419
Intergroup emotions	420
Collective behaviour and the crowd	420
Early theories	421
Deindividuation and self-awareness	423
Emergent norm theory	426
Social identity approach	428
Improving intergroup relations	429
Propaganda and education	429
Intergroup contact	430
Superordinate goals	434
Pluralism and diversity	435
Communication	436
Summary	439
Literature, film and TV	440
Learn more	440

12 Aggression 443

Aggression in our community	444
Definitions and measurement	445
Defining aggression	445
Measuring aggression	447
Major theoretical positions	447
Biological explanations	448
Social and biosocial explanations	450

Does theory have any point?	456
Personal and situational factors	457
Individual differences	457
Situation variables	464
Interactionism	469
Mass media	469
A cognitive interpretation	471
Erotica and aggression	473
Domestic violence	475
Behind closed doors	475
Gender	476
Hurting the ones we 'love'	476
Institutionalised aggression	477
Role of society	477
War: aggression on a grand scale	479
Role of the state	480
Role of the person	480
Levels of explanation	481
Reducing aggression	482
Summary	483
Literature, film and TV	484
Learn more	484

13 Affiliation, attraction and love 487

Why affiliate?	488
No one is an island	488
Long-term isolation	489
Attachment styles	493
Reducing anxiety: a short-term motive	494
Why are some people attractive?	497
Physical attractiveness: evolution or culture?	497
Correlates of being attractive	499
Proximity	500
Reciprocity	502
Similarity	505
Need complementarity	506
Self-disclosure	507
The dating game	508
Theories of attraction and relationships	509
Balance theory	509
Reinforcement theories	509
Social exchange theory	510
Relationships and well-being	516
Love relationships	517
Liking and loving: are they different?	517
Romantic love	520
Emotion in close relationships	524
Arranged marriages	525
Maintaining relationships	526
Ending a relationship	529
Loneliness	530

Summary 533
Literature, film and TV 533
Learn more 534

14 Prosocial behaviour 537

Background 538
    Prosocial behaviour, helping behaviour and altruism 538
    The Kitty Genovese murder 539
Why do people help? 540
    The biological approach 540
    Learning to be helpful 542
    Why do we act prosocially? 546
    Empathy and arousal 547
Situational models of helping 549
    Latané and Darley's cognitive model 550
    Piliavin's bystander-calculus model 556
The person in the equation 560
    Transitory psychological states 560
    Attributes of the person 561
Applied contexts 566
    Helping to prevent crime 566
    Receiving help 570
    A health support network 571
Summary 572
Literature, film and TV 572
Learn more 573

15 Language and communication 575

Communication 576
Language 576
    Language, thought and cognition 577
    Paralanguage and speech style 578
    Social markers in speech 579
    Language and ethnicity 580
    Speech accommodation 583
    Bilingualism and second-language acquisition 585
    Gender, age and language 587
Non-verbal communication 589
    Gaze and eye contact 590
    Facial expression 593
    Postures and gestures 596
    Touch 599
    Interpersonal distance 601
    Impression management and deception 603
Conversation and discourse 604
    Conversation 604
    Discourse 606
Computer-mediated communication 607
Summary 609
Literature, film and TV 610
Learn more 610

16	Culture	613
	The cultural context	614
	Locating culture in social psychology	614
	Has social psychology neglected culture?	614
	Definitions	615
	Culture, history and social psychology	616
	Origins in cultural anthropology	616
	Rise of cross-cultural psychology	617
	Cultural variations in behaviour	618
	Variation in attributional style	618
	Variation in conformity	619
	Culture and socialisation	620
	Two psyches: East meets West	622
	Two kinds of self	622
	Systems for comparing cultures	624
	Characterising cultures by values	624
	Individualism and collectivism	626
	Characterising cultures by relationships	628
	Culture, norms and identity	632
	Contact between cultures	633
	Communication, language and speech style	633
	Language and understanding	635
	Acculturation and culture change	636
	Cultural challenges to social psychology	637
	The cross-cultural challenge	637
	The multiple-cultures challenge	640
	Summary	642
	Literature, film and TV	642
	Learn more	643
	Glossary	645
	References	658
	Author index	743
	Subject index	761