

Contents

Alessandra Boller, Angela Krewani, Martin Kuester
Introduction	1
Part I: LITERATURE AND/AS CULTURAL ECOLOGY
David Williams
On Reading Darwin after Milton: Towards a Literary Ecology	15
Alessandra Boller
“[W]hy do we think that everything on Earth belongs to us, while in reality we belong to Everything?” – Ecological Democracy and Inclusive Multiculturalism in Margaret Atwood’s MaddAddam Trilogy	33
Heike Schwarz
Un natural Habitats: Environmentalism and Environmental Distress Syndrome in Canadian Comics	59
Part II: MEDIA ECOLOGIES
Paolo Granata
Marshall McLuhan and the Ecology of the Cultural Forms	83
Angela Krewani
Unending Landscapes and Mythical Origins: Filmic Ecologies in Canada	97
René Reinhold Schalleger
Virtual Voices in the Wilderness? – The Media Ecology of Videogames in Canada	115

Part III: FIRST NATIONS ECOLOGIES

Martin Kuester

“Ecological Indians” in “the Global Indian Village”: A European Perspective on Contemporary Canadian First Nations Writing 139

Maria Moss

“From Within Fur and Feathers”: Game Animals in
First Nations Lives – Past and Present 155

Angela Weber

“This is not about landscape, it’s about land.” Rebecca Belmore,
Indigenous Art Criticism, and the Canadian Art Discourse (1989-2008) 173

Notes on Contributors 201