

Contents

List of Illustrations	page viii
Contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	xvi
Introduction: Caribbean Assemblages, 1970s–2020 Ronald Cummings and Alison Donnell	I
I LITERARY AND GENERIC TRANSITIONS
1 Writing and the Responsibility to Memory: The Role of White Female Planters in Contemporary Caribbean Novels Tanya L. Shields	21
2 Caribbean Identities and Diversifying the Creole Mix Shivanee Ramlochan	37
3 Carnival, Calypso and Dancehall Cultures: Making the Popular Political in Contemporary Caribbean Writing Emily Zobel Marshall	52
4 Life Writing, Gender and Caribbean Narrative 1970–2015: Itinerant Self-Making in the Postcolonial Caribbean Denise deCaires Narain	69
5 Forwarding Dubpoetry in This Generation: A Grassroots Performance and Neo-Literary Genre in Transition Susan Gingell	85
6 Postcolonial Ruins, Reconstructive Poetics: Caribbean Urban Imaginarities Christopher Winks	102

7	Reimagining Caribbean Time and Space: Speculative Fiction Rebecca Romdhani	118
8	Caribbean Drama and Performance Justine M^cConnell	132
9	Here Are the Others: Caribbean Creative Nonfiction Kei Miller	148
10	'Let Every Child Run Wild': Cultural Identity and the Role of the Child in Caribbean Children's and Young Adult Fiction Aisha Takiyah Spencer	164
II CULTURAL AND POLITICAL TRANSITIONS
11	Caribbean Feminist Criticism: Towards a New Canon of Caribbean Feminist Theory and Theorizing Simone A. James Alexander	183
12	Writing of and for a Revolution Alison Donnell and Nalini Mohabir	201
13	Digital Yards: Caribbean Writing on Social Media and Other Digital Platforms Kelly Baker Josephs	219
14	Developing and Sustaining Literary Publics: Prizes, Festivals and New Writing Ifeona Fulani	235
III THE CARIBBEAN REGION IN TRANSITION
15	The Caribbean and Britain Sarah Lawson Welsh	253
16	Acts of Trespass and Collapsing Borders: Alternate Landscapes in Contemporary Caribbean-Canadian Literature Camille A. Isaacs	269
17	The Caribbean and the United States Jocelyn Fenton Stitt	284

18	The Caribbean and the Tourist Gaze Supriya M. Nair	300
19	Caribbean Subjects in the World Kezia A. Page	316
IV CRITICAL TRANSITIONS
20	Dialogic Connections in Caribbean Literature and Visual Art Marta Fernández Campa	333
21	From Countertextuality to Intertextuality: Continuing the Caribbean Canon Emily L. Taylor	355
22	Caribbean Eco-Poetics: The Categorical Imperative and Indifference in the Caribbean Environment Keja L. Valens	371
23	Sexual Subjects Faizal Deen and Ronald Cummings	386
24	Caribbean Literature and Literary Studies: Past, Present and Future Alison Donnell	405
	Bibliography	426
	Index	452

List of Illustrations

- 20.1. Frankétienne, Untitled (2011). Oil on canvas. Cover image of Ready to Burst (2014), English translation of Mûr à crever (1968) by Kaiama L. Glover. Courtesy of Frankétienne and Archipelago Books. page 337
- 20.2. Sonia Farmer and Shivane Ramlochan, The Red Thread Cycle, Book I (2019). Artist book. Photo credit: Dominic Duncombe. Courtesy of Sonia Farmer and Shivane Ramlochan. 341
- 20.3. Sonia Farmer and Shivane Ramlochan, The Red Thread Cycle, Book V (2019). Artist book. Photo credit: Jackson Petit-Homme, The National Gallery of the Bahamas. Courtesy of Sonia Farmer and Shivane Ramlochan. 342
- 20.4. Christopher Cozier, The Castaway, from the Tropical Night series (2006-present). Mixed media drawings. Courtesy of Christopher Cozier. 344
- 20.5. Christopher Cozier, Hop, Skip, Jump, from the Tropical Night series (2006-present). Mixed media drawings. Courtesy of Christopher Cozier. 345
- 20.6. Kevin A. Browne, Tracey Sankar admonishes the photographer, or whoever she imagines will see the image. Photography. Port of Spain, 2014. Courtesy of Kevin A. Browne. 350
- 20.7. Kevin A. Browne, Stephanie Kanhai and Jonadiah Gonzales. Photography. Usine-Ste. Madeline Cooling Towers, Ste. Madeline, July 2015. Courtesy of Kevin A. Browne. 351