Table of Contents

Introduction The Naive State
Chapter 1	The Fall and its Signs Ingeborg Bachmann – World of the Father The Golden Notebook – The Amputated Consciousness Meditations about Christa T. – Clinging to the Light World Karin Struck: Geology of the Mother Face Madness: Symptom or Cure? Irony	11 11 14 18 20 26 29
Chapter 2	Attempts to Recapture the Naive: Man, Animus, Child The Golden Notebook: Love and Madness?  Malina: Ivan = Naiv  Christa T.: Husband, Lover, and Animus  A Short Summary and Excursus on the Animus Figure  Karin Struck: The Poet-Lover and Motherly Husband  The Child: Birth and Rebirth  Can One Return?	33 34 36 40 43 47 50 54
Chapter 3	Salvation through Writing Chaos and Order Attitudes to Language Karin Struck: Writing as a Birthpang?	59 60 63 67
Chapter 4	Other Voices, Same Rooms Narcissism or Objectless Love: The Three Marias Can You save Yourself if You're Afraid of Flying: Erica Jong Lovers and Tyrants – Francine du Plessix Gray	73 73 80 87
Chapter 5	An Approach to Structure – Parataxis Lovers and Tyrants The Golden Notebook Christa Wolf Erica Jong	93 96 98 103 104

Bachmann's Malina	105
The New Portuguese Letters	107
Struck	108
Overall Structure	112