

Contents

Alexander M. Teixeira Kalkhoff, Maria Selig & Christine Mooshammer
Prosody and conceptional variation: an introduction	7
1. Methodological considerations of prosody modeling and data collection
Antje Schweitzer
Data-driven prosody modeling using PaIntE	29
Benno Peters
Prosodic breaks in talk-in-interaction: phonetic forms and communicative functions in German dialogues	45
Elisabeth Delais-Roussarie
Intonational phrasing in French in the light of oral corpora	61
Melanie Uth
Same or different? Prosodic prominence and information structure in Yucatecan Spanish in picture-based elicitation compared to natural speech	75
Trudel Meisenburg & Christoph Gabriel
Different tasks for different proficiency levels? An L2 Discourse Completion Task for German learners of French	93
2. Case studies
Johanna Stahnke
Prosody and conceptional variation: conversational self-repair in French	111
Janina Reinhardt
Intonational variation in French interrogatives in reality television	125
Annette Gerstenberg & Julie Marie Kairet
Prosodic features and situational settings: doing reading aloud in a French writing class	141

Anke Grutschus
Conceptual profile and prosodic marking: the representation of reported speech in different Spanish text types	157
Bistra Andreeva, Snezhina Dimitrova, Christoph Gabriel & Jonas Grünke
Intonational convergence in Bulgarian Judeo-Spanish spontaneous speech	171
Giorgio Antonioli & Manuela Caterina Moroni
Intonation und Bedeutung. Frageintonationen im italiano regionale von Bergamo	191
Davide Garassino & Lorenzo Filipponio
The impact of information and prosodic structure on the phonetic implementation of vowel length in Ligurian	213

Audio files is contained in the Benno Peters chapter to this publication. The audio files are available for download on our website. You will find the access data on page 45 of the book.