

Contents

List of Figures	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: The Horse Paradigm	1
PART I: EVERYDAY LIFE AND ITS DISRUPTIONS	35
1 Germany: “Horses at the Frontier”—Heinrich von Kleist’s Michael Kohlhaas	37
2 Russia: “Horse and Nature”—Leo Tolstoy’s Kholstomer [Strider]	63
3 Iceland: “ Saga Horses ”—Benedikt Erlingsson’s Hross í oss [Of Horses and Men]	87
PART II: WAR AND PEACE	111
4 Spain: “ Horses as Gift ”— Cantar de Mio Cid [Poem of the Cid]	113
5 Japan: “ Horses as the ‘Real’ ”—Akira Kurosawa’s Kagemusha [The Shadow Warrior]	135
6 Children and Young Adults’ Literature: “ Peace Horse ” — War Horse , Novel by Michael Morpurgo, Play by Nick Stafford	157
PART III: AUTHENTICITY AND INAUTHENTICITY	181
7 England: “ Alchemical Horse ”—D. H. Lawrence’s St. Mawr	183

8	United States: " Horse as Home "— The Misfits , Film by John Huston, Script by Arthur Miller	209
9	India: " Postcolonial Horse "—Girish Karnad's Hayavadana [Head of a Horse]	229
	Conclusion: Horse Balance	249
	Bibliography	251
	Index	269
	About the Author	277