

Contents

Philip Jacobi & Anette Pankratz Introduction: Mentalities and Materialities	7
Bernd Lenz Of Pennies, Portraits and Paintings: Material Culture and the British Monarchy	15
Christoph Houswitschka “We Must Divide It into Small Parts before We Can Diffuse It”: Smallness and Identity in John Thelwall’s Concept of Citizenship	31
Jürgen Kramer Celebrating the Nation? Some Reflections on 19th-century London Architecture and Town Planning	45
Nora Pleßke The Materiality of Britain’s Empire Mentality: Colonial Commodities in Elizabeth Gaskell’s Domestic Novels	61
Philip Jacobi Ravenous Appetites: 19th-century Food Culture and the Monstrous Eater	77
Richard Stinshoff Brexit-Britain, Europe and Identity	93
Matthias Göhrmann Brexit and the Struggle to Define Great Britain: The Culture-War Discourse and UKIP’s Weaponisation of Racialised Identities	111
Joanna Rostek & Gerold Sedlmayr Grayson Perry’s Brexit Vases as National Psychotherapy: Feelings (and) Matter	129
Merle Tönnies Constructions of a National Threat: Contextualising the Rhetorical Management of the COVID-19 Pandemic in Britain	149

Stephan Karschay A Novel of Sex and War: The Scandal of D.H. Lawrence's The Rainbow	165
Ingrid von Rosenberg The Personal is Political: British-German Lovers, Families and Friends in the 1930s and 1940s ...	181
Birgit Neumann German Literature in Translation: Some Perspectives on German-British Translation Exchange	199
Karsten Fitz Roland Emmerich's The Patriot and the British Other: The End of the Cinematic 'Special Relationship'?	217
Anette Pankratz James Bond, the Creativity Dispositif and Material Realities	231
Richard Kilborn Tuning in to Our Past: Reflections on A History of the World in 100 Objects	247
Martina Heyer Re-Defining 'Englishness' in Andrea Levy's Small Island	261
Sarah E. Beyvers The Ripper at Play: The Interactive Exploration of the Whitechapel Murders in Assassin's Creed Syndicate: Jack the Ripper	275
Contributors	287