

Table of contents

Introduction

Non-canonical control in a cross-linguistic perspective:

Introduction to the volume

1

Jutta M. Hartmann, Anne Mucha and Beata Trawiński

Part I. Non-canonical control in complement clauses

Backward control, long distance agree, nominative case and TP/CP transparency

15

Artemis Alexiadou and Elena Anagnostopoulou

Alleged obligatorily controlled inflected infinitives

35

Pilar Barbosa

Agent control in passives in Romanian

83

Ion Giurgea and Maria Aurelia Cotfas

On the obligatory versus no control split in Korean

107

Hyunjung Lee and Mike Berger

Control from inside: Evidence from Japanese

137

Asako Matsuda

Control and covert modality in Hungarian:

MECs and postverbal-only focus constructions

167

Krisztina Szécsényi

Part II. Non-canonical control in adjunct clauses

Event control

197

Silke Fischer and Inghild Flaate Høyem

Adjunct control and the poverty of the stimulus: Availability vs. evidence

223

Juliana Gerard

The (null) subject of adjunct infinitives in spoken Spanish

259

Peter Herbeck

Index

287