

CONTENTS

Preface	ix–xii
Acknowledgements	xiii
PATRONAGE AND INSTITUTIONS
I	Scientific Enterprise and the Patronage of Research in France, 1800–70 Minerva 11. London, 1973	442–473
II	The Savant Confronts his Peers: Scientific Societies in France, 1815–1914 The Organization of Science and Technology in France, 1804–1914, ed. Robert Fox and George Weisz. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press and Paris: Editions de la Maison des Sciences de l'Homme, 1980	241–282
III	Learning, Politics and Polite Culture in Provincial France: The Sociétés Savantes in the Nineteenth Century The Making of Frenchmen. Current Directions in the History of Education in France, 1679–1979, ed. Donald N. Baker and Patrick J. Harrigan. Waterloo, Ontario: Historical Reflections Press, 1980	543–564
IV	The Early History of the Société Zoologique de France Revised English version of “La Société Zoologique de France – ses origines et ses premières années”, Bulletin de la Société Zoologique de France 101. Paris, 1976	1–16

- V Science, Industry and the Social Order in Mulhouse, 1798–1871 127–168
The British Journal for the History of Science 17. Chalfont St Giles, 1984
- VI From Corfu to Caledonia: The Early Travels of Charles Dupin, 1808–1920 303–320
*The Light of Nature. Essays in the History and Philosophy of Science Presented to
A. C. Crombie, ed. J. D. North and J. J. Roche.
Dordrecht, Boston and Lancaster: Martinus
Nijhoff, 1985*
- THE PHYSICS OF HEAT
- VII The Science of Fire: J.H. Lambert and the Study of Heat 325–342
*Colloque International et Inter-disciplinaire Jean-Henri Lambert,
Mulhouse, 26–30 septembre (1977).
Paris: Editions Orphrys, 1979*
- VIII The Background to the Discovery of Dulong and Petit's Law 1–22
The British Journal for the History of Science 4. Oxford, 1968
- IX The Rise and Fall of Laplacian Physics 89–136
Historical Studies in the Physical Sciences 4. Princeton, New Jersey, 1975
- X The Fire Piston and its Origins in Europe 355–370
Technology and Culture 10.
Chicago, Illinois, 1969
- XI The Challenge of a New Technology:
Theorists and the High-Pressure
Steam Engine Before 1824 149–167
*Actes de la table ronde "Sadi Carnot et l'essor de la thermodynamique", Paris,
Ecole Polytechnique (Juin, 1974).
Paris: Editions du Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique, 1976*

XII	Watt's Expansive Principle in the Work of Sadi Carnot and Nicolas Clément Notes and Records of the Royal Society of London 24. London, 1970	233–253
Index		1–12

This book contains xiii + 335 pages