

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of contributors	ix
Introduction: ... these unprecedented times	1
EARL T. HARPER AND DOUG SPECHT
1 They say “our house is on fire” – on the climate emergency and (new) Earth politics	15
EDWARD H. HUIJBENS AND MARTIN GREN
2 Do not go gentle into that good night: contested narratives and political subjectivities in the Anthropocene	34
CARLOS TORNEL AND APO LUNDEN
3 The end of worlding: indigenous cosmologies in the Anthropocene	58
MARIANA REYES-CARRANZA
4 Apocalypse repeated: the absence of the indigenous subject in George Turner’s The Sea and Summer (1987)	76
CHARLOTTE LANCASTER
5 Apocalyptic literary geographies: The Tempest’s ‘brave new world,’ Frankenstein’s ‘modern Prometheus’ and Cloud-Atlas’ ‘furthest-seein’ eye’	93
CHARLES TRAVIS
6 A world without bodies: geotrauma and the work of mourning in Jorie Graham’s Fast	109
PHILIP JONES

7	Meaningful life at the end of times: ageism and the duty-to-die in Logan's Run	123
	JAMES A. TYNER
8	The catastrophic drive	142
	LUCAS POHL AND SAMO TOMŠIČ
9	The self(ie) in the Anthropocene	158
	DOUG SPECHT AND CAT SNYDER
10	Urbicide in the Anthropocene: imagining Miami futures	173
	STEPHANIE WAKEFIELD
11	Triggering the apparitions: spectres of chemical seascapes	189
	MARÍA SOLEDAD CASTRO VARGAS AND DIANA BARQUERO PÉREZ
12	Study for “Memories of the apocalypse”	201
	CARL CHRISTIAN OLSSON
13	Variegated environmental apocalypses: post-politics, the contestatory, and an eco-precariat manifesto for a radical apocalyptic	213
	TRISTAN STURM AND NICHOLAS FERRIS LUSTIG
	Index	235