

5	Foreword
9	An Introduction to Shame Beyond representation Illegitimate art and other embarrassments Existing definitions of shame Shame without iconography
25	Chapter One: Art and Shame in the Writing of Sigmund Freud Shame, play, fantasy Art as an exception from reality, culture, and shame
37	Chapter Two: Theorising Andy Warhol's Shame For shame? Shame and queer performativity Glamour and voyeurism
57	Chapter Three: Dieter Roth at the 1982 Venice Biennale Coming to representations of shame Roth's unedited film diaries: representing shame itself A Diary : Roth's private theatre Roth's sphere of shameful objects The structure of shame: an emotion of self-assessment; judgement; viewers/witnesses; self-assessment/norms
85	Conclusion
91	Appendix 1 'Creative Writers and Daydreaming' by Sigmund Freud
97	Appendix 2 Extracts from A Diary (from the year 1982) by Dieter Roth
115	Bibliography
125	Acknowledgements