

Contents

Preface	ix
Chronology	xiii
General Bibliography	xix
1. The Structure of Descartes' Meditations AMÉLIE OKSENBERG RORTY	1
2. The Naive Narrator: Meditation in Descartes' Meditations L. ARYEH KOSMAN	21
3. The Senses and the Fleshless Eye: The Meditations as Cognitive Exercises GARY HATFIELD	45
4. Semel in vita : The Scientific Background to Descartes' Meditations DANIEL GARBER	81
5. Descartes and the Metaphysics of Doubt MICHAEL WILLIAMS	117
6. Descartes and the Problem of Other Minds GARETH B. MATTHEWS	141

vi		Contents
7.	Analysis in the Meditations : The Quest for Clear and Distinct Ideas E. M. CURLEY	153
8.	The Theory of Ideas VERE CHAPPELL	177
9.	The Second Meditation and the Essence of the Mind JOHN P. CARRIERO	199
10.	Meaning and Objective Being: Descartes and His Sources CALVIN NORMORE	223
11.	Is There Radical Dissimulation in Descartes' Meditations ? LOUIS E. LOEB	243
12.	On the Complementarity of Meditations III and V: From the "General Rule" of Evidence to "Certain Science" GENEVIÈVE RODIS-LEWIS	271
13.	The Essential Incoherence of Descartes' Definition of Divinity JEAN-LUC MARION	297
14.	Can I Be the Cause of My Idea of the World? (Descartes on the Infinite and Indefinite) MARGARET D. WILSON	339
15.	The Idea of the True God in Descartes ANNETTE BAIER	359
16.	Confused and Obscure Ideas of Sense MARTHA BOLTON	389
17.	Will and the Theory of Judgment DAVID M. ROSENTHAL	405

Contents	vii
18. Objectum Purae Matheseos: Mathematical Construction and the Passage from Essence to Existence DAVID R. LACHTERMAN	435
19. The Status of Necessity and Impossibility in Descartes HIDE ISHIGURO	459
20. Descartes: "All Things Which I Conceive Clearly and Distinctly in Corporeal Objects Are in Them" RUTH MATTERN	473
21. Why Was Descartes a Foundationalist? FREDERICK F. SCHMITT	491
22. Cartesian Passions and the Union of Mind and Body AMÉLIE OKSENBERG RORTY	513
Contributors	535