

CONTENTS

Introduction by Ralph Ross	ix
1. ESSAYS: Our National Dilemma, 3; Freedom of Thought and Work, 8; Americanism and Localism, 12; How Reaction Helps, 17; The Sequel of the Student Revolt, 22; Shantung, As Seen from Within, 28; The New Leaven in Chinese Politics, 41; What Holds China Back, 51; China's Nightmare, 60; A Political Upheaval in China, 65; Industrial China, 71	I
2. Reconstruction in Philosophy	77
3. LECTURES: Three Contemporary Philosophers: William James, Henri Bergson, and Bertrand Russell, 205	203
4. MISCELLANY: Bolshevism in China: Service Report, 253; Introduction to 1948 reprint of Reconstruction in Philosophy , 256	251
Notes	278
TEXTUAL APPARATUS: Textual Commentary, 281; Textual Notes, 288; Emendations List, 289; List of 1973 Variants, 297; Line-end Hyphenation, 298; Substantive Variants in Quotations, 300; Checklist of Dewey's References, 302	279
Index	304