

Contents

	Page
INTRODUCTION	xi
1 THE ROAD TO COMMUNISM 1820-1844
I Marx and Engels	1
II Barmen, 1820-38	2
III Bremen, 1838-41	7
IV Berlin, 1841-2	12
V London and Manchester, 1842-4	20
VI Paris, 1844	26
2 THE CONDITION OF THE WORKING CLASS IN ENGLAND IN 1844
I The Genesis of Engels's Book	43
II Engels on the English Workers	48
III Engels's Book in Germany	61
IV Engels's Book in England	65
V The Significance of Engels's Book	69
3 THE YOUNG REVOLUTIONARY 1845-1850
I The German Ideology, 1845-7	79
II The Communist Correspondence Committee, 1846-8	93
III The "Principles of Communism" and the Communist Manifesto, 1847-8	106
IV Revolution and Reaction, 1848-9	133
V Exile in London, 1849-50	165
4 THE MANCHESTER YEARS 1850-1870
I The Years of Storm and Stress, 1850-60	195
II The Cotton Lord, 1860-70	210

	Page
5 FRIENDS IN EXILE
I Wilhelm Wolff	243
II Georg Weerth	253
III Carl Schorlemmer	262
IV Eduard Gumpert	271
V Carl Siebel	272
VI English Friends: Julian Harney – James Leach – Ernest Jones – Edward Jones – Samuel Moore	276
VII The “Philistines”: Louis Borchardt – John Watts	282

Documents

I To the Working Class of Great Britain, 1845	309
II Review of Friedrich Engels, The Condition of the Working Class in England , 1845	311
III Introduction to the Communist Circular against Hermann Kriege, May 11, 1846	331
IV Letter to G. A. Köttgen of Elberfeld, June 15, 1846	332
V Address of the German Democratic Communists of Brussels to Mr Feargus O’Connor, 1846	335
VI The Status Quo in Germany, 1847	337
VII The Free Trade Congress in Brussels, 1847	356
VIII Principles of Communism, November 1847	362
IX Statutes of the Communist League, 1847	380
X Demands of the German Communist Party, 1848	388
INDEX	391