

Contents

Tables xi

Introduction xiii

Preface xvii

- 1 Approaching Overeducation/Underemployment 1
 - Scope of the Problem 2
 - Technocratic Approaches to Underemployment 6
 - Beyond Technocratic Approaches 11
 - Description of the Research Design and Worksite 18
 - Chapter Synopsis 21

- 2 Education and Work—The Recent Literature 28
 - Operationalizations of Underemployment 28
 - Documentation of Underemployment 29
 - Who is Underemployed? 30
 - Underemployment and Job Satisfaction 32
 - Original Statistical Analysis of
Underemployment and Job Satisfaction
Using NORC General Social Survey 33
 - Other Effects of Underemployment 36
 - The Effects of Higher Education 38
 - Conclusion 45

- 3 Educational Control Structures in the United States—From Theocracy to Technocracy 50
 - Introduction 50
 - 1636-1850: Theocracy and Early Capitalism 52
 - 1850-1900: Bureaucratization 56
 - 1900-1930: Taylorism, Progressivism, and the Rise of Administration 63
 - 1930-Present: The Technocratic Administration of Education 73
 - Conclusion 80

4 Clerical Work—Past and Present	86
The Rise of the "New Middle Class" and the White-collar Sector	86
Feminization and the Sex-structuring of White-collar Work	89
The Impact of New Technology	91
New Working Class Theory	95
Poulantzas's "New Petty Bourgeoisie" and Wright's "Contradictory Class Location"	101
Clerical Work, Education, and Cultural Capital	103
The Future of Clerical Work	108
5 Profiles—The Non-B.A. Group	115
Introduction	115
Cora and Rose	116
Robert and Cynthia	122
Lorraine and Steve	127
Margaret, Caroline, and Eve	133
Tony, Natalie, and Herman	142
Conclusion	150
6 Profiles—The B.A. Group	152
Introduction	152
David, Kevin, and Carla	152
Ruth and Tom	161
Martin, Marie, Elaine	168
Dick, Linda, Laurie, Leroy	178
Conclusion	190
7 Before the Job	191
Introduction	191
Family Background	191
Educational Experiences	194
Personality and Individual Characteristics	197
Prior Work Experiences	201
Marketability	203
Conclusion	205
8 On the Job	210
Introduction	210
The Comparison of School and Work	210
Use of School-acquired Skills and Knowledge on the Job	215
Subjective Feelings of Overeducation and Overqualification	218
Rationale for Perceived Overqualification	220
Job Satisfaction	222

Pros and Cons	228
Turnover and Promotion	229
Co-worker Relationships	232
Attitudes Towards Technology	234
Union Attitudes	236
Attitudes Concerning Discrimination	238
Suggested Reforms	239
Conclusion	241
9 Off the Job	245
Introduction	245
Taking the Job Home	245
Extrawork Activities	247
Do Extrawork Activities Impinge on Work?	251
Aspirations and Future Plans	252
Attitudes Concerning Education	255
The Impact of College	260
Political Attitudes	263
Conclusion	267
10 Underemployment Reconsidered—Recapitulation and Conclusions	270
Contemporary and Historical Dimensions of Underemployment	270
The Results of Interviewing Research	275
Typology of Subjective Responses to Job Situation	284
Looking Towards the Future	287
Appendix A: Methodology of Sampling, etc.	301
Appendix B: Interview Schedule	305
Bibliography	309
Index	327
About the Author	331