

Contents

Prefaces .....	9
Introduction .....	18
Module I Organizing ideas into text .....	26
Introduction .....	26
Chapter 1 The term paper: gearing up to start writing ...	27
1.1 The term paper as an argued text .....	27
1.2 The three processes of planning, writing proper and editing .....	29
1.3 Making the plan .....	30
1.4 Using a computer .....	36
1.5 Conclusion .....	42
Chapter 2 Different types of term paper: Two models ...	44
2.1 Term paper as essay or as mini-article .....	44
2.2 Quotation and paraphrase .....	45
2.3 The literary essay .....	54
2.4 The linguistic mini-article .....	60
2.5 Conclusion .....	72
Chapter 3 Title, Introduction, Body and Conclusion .....	73
3.1 The Title .....	73
3.2 The Introduction .....	75
3.3 The Body sections .....	79
3.4 Paragraphs within the Body sections .....	81
3.5 The Conclusion .....	90
Chapter 4 Getting the paper ready for submission: Editing and formatting .....	94
4.1 Editing .....	94
4.2 Formal requirements .....	97
Bibliography .....	100

Module II Building effective sentences . . . . . 102

Introduction . . . . . 102

Chapter 1 Basic issues in sentence construction . . . . . 104

1.1 Sentence construction . . . . . 104

1.2 Information packaging . . . . . 108

1.3 Sentencing . . . . . 111

1.4 Overview . . . . . 116

Chapter 2 Information packaging . . . . . 118

2.1 Basic grammatical moulds . . . . . 119

2.2 The order of information in the clause . . . . . 124

2.3 Organizing the starting point . . . . . 131

2.4 Establishing a special kind of starting point:
framing . . . . . 148

2.5 Organizing the end point . . . . . 153

2.6 What goes wrong in clause construction . . . . . 161

2.7 Overview . . . . . 167

Chapter 3 Complex sentences . . . . . 168

3.1 Different kinds of sentence . . . . . 169

3.2 Clause combining: the basic forms . . . . . 174

3.3 Foregrounding and backgrounding . . . . . 186

3.4 Complex framing . . . . . 189

3.5 Interruption techniques . . . . . 194

3.6 Elaborational techniques . . . . . 203

3.7 Coordinating and listing . . . . . 208

3.8 Problems with sentence length . . . . . 215

3.9 Review . . . . . 219

Chapter 4 Punctuation . . . . . 222

4.1 Commas 1: the principle of semantic unity . . . . . 223

4.2 Commas 2: optional use . . . . . 229

4.3 Colons . . . . . 238

4.4 Semicolons . . . . . 243

4.5 Dashes and brackets . . . . . 247

4.6 Commas revisited: dealing with comma splices . . . . . 250

4.7 Overview . . . . . 252

Bibliography . . . . . 255

References . . . . . 256

Module III	Lexis and Grammar . . . . .	260
	Introduction . . . . .	260
	Chapter 1 A constructional view of language . . . . .	261
	Chapter 2 Academic lexis and patterning . . . . .	268
	2.1 Nouns and noun patterns . . . . .	269
	2.2 Adjective patterns . . . . .	286
	2.3 Prepositions and prepositional phrases . . . . .	291
	2.4 Verbs and verb patterns . . . . .	295
	2.5 The interface between verb patterning and sentence-building . . . . .	305
	Chapter 3 From word to collocation . . . . .	308
	3.1 Words, words, words . . . . .	309
	3.2 How words go together . . . . .	318
	3.3 Collocation of semantic-pragmatic features . . . . .	324
	3.4 Collocational gaps and incompatibilities . . . . .	326
	3.5 Making creative use of collocation . . . . .	327
	3.6 The interplay of collocation and patterning . . . . .	328
	Chapter 4 Rhetorical moves and their lexical realizations . . . . .	332
	4.1 Stating your topics and objectives . . . . .	332
	4.2 Reporting, summarizing and paraphrasing . . . . .	336
	4.3 Expressing opinions and criticizing . . . . .	350
	4.4 Enumerating ideas and changing the topic . . . . .	356
	4.5 Topicalizing specific items . . . . .	366
	4.6 Exemplification . . . . .	367
	4.7 Comparison and contrast . . . . .	374
	4.8 Concession . . . . .	407
	4.9 Cause, reason and explanation . . . . .	419
	4.10 Consequence and result . . . . .	437
	4.11 Static relations . . . . .	439
	Bibliography . . . . .	442
Module IV	Style . . . . .	446
	Introduction . . . . .	446
	Chapter 1 Style and stylistic competence . . . . .	447
	1.1 What is style? . . . . .	447
	1.2 How to achieve stylistic competence . . . . .	448

1.3	Academic style . . . . .	451
1.4	From non-specialist to specialist text . . . . .	460
1.5	Personal style . . . . .	463
Chapter 2	The principles of style . . . . .	468
2.1	Aptness . . . . .	469
2.2	Clarity . . . . .	474
2.3	Concision . . . . .	483
2.4	Variety . . . . .	491
2.5	Elegance . . . . .	502
	Bibliography . . . . .	510
	Afterword . . . . .	516
	Glossary . . . . .	518
	Index . . . . .	523