

CONTENTS

1	Introduction: Essential Versus External Social Being	1
Part I	Subjectivity	15
2	Who Controls Your Thoughts? Epictetus and Émile Durkheim on Mental Structure	17
3	When Are You Present? Chrysippus and Henri Bergson on Continuous Time	43
4	Why Do You Care About Yourself? The Early Stoics and Herbert Spencer on Self-Preservation	71
Part II	Knowledges and Epistemologies	97
5	Do Preconceptions Determine New Knowledge? Epictetus and Max Weber on Truth	99
6	Do People Know Why They Travel? Seneca and Anthony Giddens on Ignorance	119

Part III Physical Conditions	141
7 Is Climate Change Natural? Marcus Aurelius and Barbara Adam on Death	143
8 What Causes Your Behaviors? Zeno and Pierre Bourdieu on the Body	173
Part IV Collective Ethics	191
9 How Do We Regulate Our Affection for Others? Hierocles and Claude Lévi-Strauss on Kinship Circles	193
10 Can Education Be Egalitarian? Musonius Rufus and Julia Kristeva on Gendered Labor	213
11 Is It Natural to Be Social? Marcus Aurelius and George Herbert Mead on Socialization	233
Part V Emotions	251
12 Is Reason External to Passion? Posidonius, Ann Game, and Andrew Metcalfe on Self-Division	253
13 Who Benefits from the Management of Feelings? Epictetus and Arlie Hochschild on Emotional Labor	279
14 How Individual Is Happiness? Chrysippus and Harriet Martineau on the Universal End	299
References	321
Index	341