

Contents

Acknowledgements	xv
Note on References	xvii
Map	xviii
Introduction	1
1 The Road to War	6
The Afghan Context	8
Afghanistan as a Territorial Unit	8
The Peoples of Afghanistan	9
The Afghan State	11
State and Society	13
The Decline of State Legitimacy: 1964–1978	15
The Soviet Context	16
The Soviet System	16
Soviet Relations with Afghanistan	18
The Soviet Cultivation of Afghan Communists	19
The Sclerotic Soviet Elite	21
From Coup to Invasion	23
The April 1978 Coup	23
Communist Factionalism and Policy Failures	24
The Soviet View of Afghan Developments	26
The Amin Period	28
The Soviet Invasion	29
2 Soviet Strategy, Tactics, and Dilemmas	32
The Soviet Armed Forces	32
Some History	32
The Structure and Functioning of the Soviet Armed Forces	33
Soviet Strategy	35
Strategic Objectives	36

Soviet Tactics	39
Infantry	39
Armour	40
Tactical Airpower	41
Spetsnaz Forces and Sabotage	41
Scorched Earth	42
Mine Warfare	43
Intelligence and Communications	43
Operational Relations with the Afghan Army	44
Soviet Dilemmas	45
3 The Development of Afghan Resistance	48
Popular Mobilization in Afghanistan	49
Islam as a Basis of Resistance	49
Grassroots Resistance and Tribal Warfare	50
Resistance Political Parties	52
Regional Commanders	54
Urban Resistance Activities	54
The Role of Pakistan	55
Longer-Term Pakistani Interests	56
The Position of General Zia	57
Pakistan as Host of Afghan Refugees	59
Pakistan as a Conduit of External Aid: The Role of ISI	60
Pakistani Manipulation and the Afghan Resistance	61
International Support for the Afghan Resistance	63
The UN Response to the Soviet Invasion	63
Western Reactions to the Invasion	64
Arab Reactions to the Invasion	67
Western Non-Governmental Organizations	68
4 The Karmal Period, 1979–1986	70
Patterns of War	71
Eastern and Southern Afghanistan	71
Northern Afghanistan	72
Western Afghanistan	73
The Panjsher Valley	73
The Hazarajat	74

The Structure of the Regime and the Role of the Party	75
The Limited Autonomy of the Karmal Regime	75
Factionalism Within the Karmal Regime and the Weakness of the Party	76
Relations Between Different Bureaucratic Agencies	77
The Failed Legitimation Strategies of the Karmal Regime	78
The Afghan Secret Police	80
The Organization of KhAD	80
Najibullah as Head of KhAD	80
KhAD and Urban Repression	81
KhAD and the Creation of a Deracinated 'Janissary' Class	82
Soviet-KhAD Relations and the Roles of Soviet Advisers	83
The USSR and Change in the Kabul Regime	84
Problems of Stagnation in the USSR	84
The Rise of Gorbachev and the Fall of Karmal	86
5 The Najibullah-Gorbachev Period, 1986-1989	88
Patterns of War	89
Militias	89
Eastern and Southern Afghanistan	90
Western Afghanistan	91
Northern Afghanistan and the Panjsher Valley	91
The Hazarajat	92
Political Change in Moscow and Kabul	93
Elite Turnover in the USSR	93
Gorbachev's Consolidation of Power: Policy Consequences	94
Najibullah's Consolidation of Power	95
Glasnost' and Afghanistan	97
The Policy of 'National Reconciliation'	98
The Origins of 'National Reconciliation'	98
The Content of 'National Reconciliation'	98
Obstacles to 'National Reconciliation'	100
The Failure of 'National Reconciliation'	100
6 The Road to Soviet Withdrawal	102
The Soviet Decision to Withdraw	103
The Foreign Policy Process Under Gorbachev	103

The Recognition of Strategic Failure	104
The Role of Gorbachev	105
13 November 1986	106
The United Nations and the Geneva Accords	108
The Development of Negotiations Under UN Auspices	108
The Evolution of the Geneva Accords	109
The Finalization and Signing of the Geneva Accords	111
The Content of the Geneva Accords	112
The Limitations of the Geneva Accords	114
The Course of the Withdrawal	115
UNGOMAP and UNOCA	115
Manoeuvrings During the Withdrawal	117
The Death of Zia	118
Mujahideen Positioning	119
The Completion of the Withdrawal	122
7 Consequences of the Soviet–Afghan War	123
Effects of the War on Afghanistan	123
The Civilian Population	123
The Economy	125
Afghan Politics	126
Effects of the War on the Soviet Union	128
The Afghan War and Soviet Society	128
Faith in the Party Leadership	129
The Erosion of the Brezhnev Doctrine	129
Was Afghanistan the USSR’s Vietnam?	130
Afghanistan and the Disintegration of the Soviet System	132
Two Lessons of the War	133
8 The Interregnum of Najibullah, 1989–1992	135
Mechanisms of Regime Maintenance	136
Continuing Soviet Assistance	136
Militias and Segmentary Politics	136
Rebadging the Party	138
Intraparty Rivalries	138
Fracturing within the Afghan Resistance	140
Resistance Tensions: Jalalabad and Farkhar	140

Resistance Consolidation	142
US Disengagement	143
UN Attempts to Manage Transition	144
The Secretary-General's May 1991 Plan	145
The Weaknesses of the UN Plan	147
The Evolution of the UN Plan	148
The Collapse of the Regime	149
The August 1991 Coup and Soviet Aid	149
The Revolt in the North	150
Splits in the Regime and the Afghan Army: Ideology and Ethnicity	151
The Collapse of the UN Plan	152
9 The Rise and Fall of the Rabbani Government, 1992–1996	156
The Failure of Elite Settlements	157
The Nature of Elite Settlements	157
The Peshawar Accord	158
The Islamabad Accord	160
Distrust and Manipulation in the Absence of a State	160
The Bombardment of Kabul	161
The Symbolism of the Capital	161
The Division of Kabul Between Militias	162
Rocket Attacks and Atrocities	164
The Peace of March–October 1995	165
Beyond Kabul	166
Eastern and Southern Afghanistan	166
Northern and Western Afghanistan	167
The Reappearance of the UN	168
Regime Decay	171
Politics in Kabul	171
The Failure to Find Moderate Pushtun Allies	172
The Rabbani–Hekmatyar Rapprochement	172
The International Context	173
10 The Rise and Rule of the Taliban, 1994–2001	175
The Origins and Spread of the Taliban	176
Pakistan's Search for Clients	176
The Composition of the Taliban	179

The Deobandi Heritage	181
The USA and the Taliban	182
Military Developments After September 1996	184
The Objectives of the Taliban	186
The Taliban and Security	187
The Taliban and Sharia Law	188
The Taliban and the State	189
The Taliban and Human Rights	190
Women's Rights to Education and Health	190
Political Freedoms	192
Massacres: Mazar-e Sharif and Yakaolang	192
Protection of Cultural Property	193
The Taliban and the World	194
The Impact of Gender	194
Seeking Recognition	195
Finding Friends	196
The UN and the Taliban	197
Terrorism and Sanctions	199
11 The Fall of the Taliban Regime	202
Osama Bin Laden and the Taliban	203
Bin Laden's Background	203
Bin Laden and the Taliban Leaders	204
The Radicalization of the Taliban	206
September 11: The Logic of Messianic Terror	207
The Obliteration of the Taliban Regime	207
The 'War on Terrorism'	207
The War Begins	210
Why Did the Taliban Fall So Quickly?	214
The Bonn Conference and its Aftermath	215
The Bonn Agreement	215
The Interim Administration	219
12 The Karzai Era	222
Old and New Challenges for Afghanistan	223
Reconstituting the State	223
The Rebuilding of Trust and the Establishment of Security	224

Establishing Foundations for Reconstruction	225
Retaining International Attention	225
Politics in the Karzai Era	226
Strategies of Legitimation	227
Pathologies of New State Structures at Central and Local Levels	228
Constitutional Reform	230
Elections	231
Reconstruction and Development	234
Agents of Reconstruction	235
Donor Priority-Setting and National Sovereignty	237
Reconstruction in the Provinces: Building a Civil Economy	239
Security Threats	240
Al-Qaida	240
The Taliban	241
‘Warlords’	243
Criminality and Narcotics	245
‘Collateral Damage’ in the War on Terror	246
Building Security	246
Counter-Insurgency Challenges	246
Demilitarization, Demobilization, and Disarmament	248
Building a New Afghan National Army	249
Building a New Afghan National Police	250
Security, Justice, and the Rule of Law	251
Afghanistan, Pakistan, and the Taliban Threat	251
Pakistan’s Ongoing Support for the Taliban	251
Pakistan and the Spread of Insurgency	253
Talibanization of the Tribal Areas and Pakistan’s Internal Crises	254
Afghanistan and Iran	256
The Iranian Political System	257
The Ahmadinejad Presidency	257
Iran’s Interests in Afghanistan	258
Iran and the Taliban	259
Iran’s Nuclear Programme: Implications	260
NATO, the UN, and Afghanistan	260
NATO in Afghanistan	260
The UN and Afghanistan	262

Afghanistan, Obama, and the Road to ‘Transition’ in 2014	263
The USA and the ‘War on Terror’	263
The Iraq War and Its Effects	264
The Obama Administration and Afghanistan	265
13 Afghanistan from 2014	268
The 2014 Election Crisis and the ‘National Unity Government’	269
The 2014 Presidential Election	269
The ‘National Unity Government’	270
The Taliban after 2014: Military Gains and Political Fragmentation	273
Military Developments and Attacks	273
Turmoil in the Taliban Leadership	275
‘Islamic State’ in Afghanistan	276
The Roots of ‘Islamic State’	276
‘Islamic State’ in Afghanistan	277
Afghanistan and the World	280
The Impact of Globalization	280
Afghanistan and Other Powers	283
An Afghan ‘Peace Process’?	286
Peace in the Offing?	286
Prospects	288
Changing Patterns of War in Afghanistan	291
Changing Patterns of War	291
Changing Dimensions of War in Afghanistan	292
Afghan Futures	294
Tensions in Afghanistan’s Internal Politics	294
Donor Activities	295
International Attention	296
Pakistan as a Threat to Regional and Global Stability	298
A Darkening Sky	299
References	301
Index	364