

CONTENTS

| | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 1 Introduction | 1 |
| Nicola Marcucci | |
| Part I Confronting Critical Traditions | 17 |
| 2 Hegel and Durkheim: Contours of an Elective Affinity | 19 |
| Axel Honneth | |
| 3 The Authority of Revolution: Durkheim After Arendt | 43 |
| Nicola Marcucci | |
| 4 Winch and Durkheim: The Difficulty of Social Reality | 91 |
| Mark Theunissen | |
| Part II Social Ontology | 129 |
| 5 Anomie: On the Link Between Social Pathology and Social Ontology | 131 |
| Frederick Neuhouser | |
| 6 From Society to Social Practices: Proposals for a New Theory of Ideology | 163 |
| Julia Christ | |

| | |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| Part III From Practices to Justice | 189 |
| 7 The Constraint of Justice: Durkheim on Modern Solidarity and Freedom as Non-exploitation Francesco Callegaro | 191 |
| 8 Durkheim’s Self-Regulating “Constitutive” Practices: An Unexplored Critical Relevance to Racial Justice, Consensus Thinking, and the COVID-19 Pandemic Anne Warfield Rawls | 227 |
| Part IV Rethinking Politics | 265 |
| 9 Politics of Durkheim: Society, Humanity, State Bruno Karsenti | 267 |
| 10 Socialism as a Reaction to Nationalisms: A Durkheimian Perspective Cyril Lemieux | 291 |
| Name Index | 315 |
| Subject Index | 319 |