

The Normans in the Mediterranean

Edited by

EMILY A. WINKLER

LIAM FITZGERALD

with the assistance of

ANDREW SMALL

BREPOLS

Table of Contents

Illustrations	7
Acknowledgements	9
Introduction
Emily A. WINKLER and Andrew SMALL	11

Part I

Motivations and Strategies

---

1. Norman Conquests: Nature, Nurture, Normanitas
Matthew BENNETT	43
2. Marriage as a Strategy for Conquering Power: Norman Matrimonial Strategies in Lombard Southern Italy
Aurélié THOMAS	67
3. The Changing Priorities in the Norman Incursions into the Iberian Peninsula's Muslim-Christian Frontiers, c. 1018–c. 1191
Lucas VILLEGAS-ARISTIZÁBAL	81

Part II

The Implications of Conquest in Sicily and Southern Italy

---

4. Norman Change, Lords, and Rural Societies
Sandro CAROCCI	123
5. The Nobility of Norman Italy, c. 1085–1127
Graham A. LOUD	139
6. Shaping the Urban Landscape: The Normans as New Patrons in Salerno
Maddalena VACCARO	163

7. Palermo and the Norman Conquest of Sicily
Theresa JÄCKH 187
8. Community and Conquest on Medieval Monte Iato, Sicily
Nicole MÖLK 211

Part III
Perceptions and Memories

9. Holy War in the Central Mediterranean: The Case of the Zirids
and the Normans
Matt KING 229
10. Hagiography and the Politics of Memory in the Norman
Conquest of the Italian South
Kalina YAMBOLIEV 249

Illustrations

Figure 2.1.	The alliances of the Hauteville and Drengot families within the princely families of Salerno and Capua.	74
Figure 6.1.	Map of ecclesiastical foundations in Salerno before 1076.	164
Figure 6.2.	Map of ecclesiastical foundations in Salerno before 1076.	164
Figure 6.3.	Norman cities in Southern Italy and Sicily.	165
Figure 6.4.	Drawing of the follaro of Prince Gisulf II. 1052–1077.	167
Figure 6.5.	Fragments of the lost inscription from San Massimo celebrating Prince Guaiferius's foundation. c. 865.	168
Figure 6.6.	Archivio di Stato di Salerno (ASSa), Fondo registro e bollo, b. 628, year 1862. Santa Maria de Domno deconsecrated and divided in spaces for private use.	170
Figure 6.7.	Santa Maria and San Matteo cathedral, Salerno. 1080–twelfth century.	172
Figure 6.8.	Norman residential building, the so-called Castel Terracena, Salerno. Eleventh to thirteenth century.	174
Figure 6.9.	San Benedetto, Salerno. Twelfth century.	175
Figure 6.10.	Santa Maria de Portanova, Salerno. Twelfth century.	176
Figure 6.11.	Archivio della Diocesi di Salerno (ADS), Ufficio tecnico, b. 14. Plans of Santa Maria de Portanova in 1962 during restoration.	176
Figure 6.12.	Santa Maria de Lama, Salerno. Twelfth century.	178
Figure 6.13.	Palazzo Pedace, former residence of Matteo D'Ajello. Second half of twelfth century.	180
Figure 8.1.	Monte Iato, view from the North and Location on Map.	212
Figure 8.2.	Ground plan and reconstruction of the single-room house with the find location of the denarius of King Conradin.	219