

PART IV

Gathering Information

- 8 How Do Researchers Study Patterns that Span Populations and Categories of Experience?
Questionnaires and Structured Interviews 168
- 9 How Do Researchers Learn about People's Perspectives and Lives?
Qualitative Interviewing 194
- 10 How Can Researchers Study the Patterns of People's Lives?
Participant Observation and Ethnography 218
- 11 How Do Researchers Study the Ways Meanings Are Communicated in Everyday Life?
Content Analysis 241
- 12 What Can Researchers Learn from Information Others Collected?
Existing Data 267

PART V

Making Sense and Sharing What We've Learned

- 13 How Do Researchers Develop Inductive Findings?
Qualitative Data Analysis 296
- 14 How Do Researchers Develop Deductive Findings?
Quantitative Data Analysis 320
- 15 How Do Researchers Record and Share Their Work?

PART I

Principles of Research 1

1 What Is Social Research? A Particular Way of Knowing 2

Chapter Overview	3
Introduction: Reasons to Study Research Methods	4
Knowledge Creation	4
Theory Building and Testing	7
Perceptions, Values, and Practicalities	15
Key Points	20
Questions for Review	20
Portfolio Exercise	21
Interactive Activities	21
Online Resources	22

2 What Principles and Standards Guide Research?

Research Ethics 23

Chapter Overview	24
Introduction: The Importance of Research Ethics	24
The History of Research Ethics	25
Institutional Oversight and Research Ethics	27
Key Ethical Principles in Research	29
Ethics as a Question of Power and Social Justice	39
Considering Ethics in Research	44
Key Points	44
Questions for Review	45
Portfolio Exercise	46
Interactive Activities	46
Online Resources	47

PART II

Concepts and Cases 48

3 How Do Researchers Identify and Evaluate Social Concepts? Measurement 50

Chapter Overview	51
Introduction: The Task of Measurement	51
Identifying and Measuring Concepts	52
Conceptualization and Operationalization	54
Measurement in Quantitative Research	60
Reliability and Validity	64
Key Points	68
Questions for Review	69
Portfolio Exercise	69
Interactive Activities	70
Online Resources	70

4 How Do Researchers Select the People, Places, and Things to Study? Sampling 71

Chapter Overview	72
Introduction: How Researchers Rely on Sampling	72
Sampling in the Research Process	73
Generalizability and Representativeness	73
Probability Sampling	74
Types of Probability Sampling	75
Non-Probability Sampling	80
Types of Non-Probability Sampling	81
Sampling Error	86
Considerations during the Sampling Process	90

Key Points 90
 Questions for Review 91
 Portfolio Exercise 92
 Interactive Activities 92
 Online Resources 92

PART III

Modes and Practices of Inquiry 94

5 How Can Researchers Understand Meaning, Process, and Experience in the Social World?

Qualitative Research 96

Chapter Overview 97

Introduction: How Qualitative Research Favors Depth over Breadth 97

The Emergence of Qualitative Approaches 100

Defining Qualitative Research 102

The Main Goals of Qualitative Researchers 103

The Main Steps in Qualitative Research 109

The Distinct Perspective of Qualitative Research 111

Key Points 116

Questions for Review 116

Portfolio Exercise 117

Interactive Activities 118

6 How Can Researchers Enumerate and Examine Broad Patterns to Social Life?

Quantitative Research 120

Chapter Overview 121

Introduction: How Quantitative Research Examines Broad Trends and Patterns 121

The Emergence of Quantitative Approaches 123

The Main Goals of Quantitative Researchers 125

The Main Steps in Quantitative Research 131

The Distinct Perspective of Quantitative Research 136

Some Contrasts between Qualitative and Quantitative Research 139

Key Points 141

Questions for Review 142

Portfolio Exercise 142

Interactive Activities 143

Online Resources 143

7 Where Do Principles and Practice Meet in Research?

Study Design 144

Chapter Overview 145

Introduction: Choosing a Study Design for Your Research 145

Experimental Design 147

Collecting Data at Different Points in Time: Cross-Sectional and Longitudinal Design 155

Case Study Design 159

Modes of Inquiry and Study Design 163

Key Points 163

Questions for Review 164

Portfolio Exercise 164

Interactive Activities 164

Online Resources 165

Gathering Information 166

8 How Do Researchers Study Patterns that Span Populations and Categories of Experience?

Questionnaires and Structured Interviews 168

Chapter Overview 169

Introduction: Why Surveys Are Efficient 169

Different Kinds of Surveys 170

Writing Survey Questions 175

Questionnaire Design 186
 Conducting Structured Interviews 187
 Pilot Studies and Pre-Testing Questions 190
 Key Points 191
 Questions for Review 191
 Portfolio Exercise 192
 Interactive Activities 192
 Online Resources 193

9 How Do Researchers Learn about People's Perspectives and Lives?

Qualitative Interviewing 194

Chapter Overview 195

Introduction: Why the Interview Is the Most Widely Used Qualitative Research Method 196

Types of Qualitative Interviews: Unstructured and Semi-structured 196

Preparing for a Qualitative Interview 199

Conducting Qualitative Interviews 202

Focus Groups 207

Online Interviews and Focus Groups 213

Key Points 214

Questions for Review 215

Portfolio Exercise 215

Interactive Activities 216

Online Resources 217

10 How Can Researchers Study the Patterns of People's Lives?

Participant Observation and Ethnography 218

Chapter Overview 219

Introduction: Why Participant Observation and Ethnography Are Not the Same 219

Why Participant Observation? 220

Selecting and Navigating a Setting 221

Balancing Participation and Observation 228

Field Notes 231

Innovations in Ethnographic Research 233

Exiting the Field Well 235

Comparing Ethnography and Qualitative Interviewing 236

Key Points 238

Questions for Review 239

Portfolio Exercise 239

Interactive Activities 239

Online Resources 240

11 How Do Researchers Study the Ways Meanings Are Communicated in Everyday Life?

Content Analysis 241

Chapter Overview 242

Introduction: Why Content Analysis Is an Unobtrusive Method of Research 243

Documents for Study 243

Choosing Documents to Examine: Sampling 252

Analyzing Communication Trends and Meanings Using Quantitative and Qualitative Approaches 254

Key Considerations in Content Analysis 262

Key Points 263

Questions for Review 264

Portfolio Exercise 264

Interactive Activities 264

Online Resources 266

12 What Can Researchers Learn from Information Others Collected?

Existing Data 267

Chapter Overview 268

Introduction: Research Using Shared Data 269

Large Surveys as Existing Data 269

Analysis of Official Statistics 275

Analysis of Government Documents 280

Analysis of Oral History Collections 282

Analysis of Big Data 285

Considerations When Conducting Secondary Analysis 287

Key Points 290

Questions for Review 290

Portfolio Exercise 291

Interactive Activities 291

Online Resources 292

PART V

Making Sense and Sharing What We've Learned 294

Qualitative Data Analysis 296

Chapter Overview 297

Introduction: Why Managing Qualitative Information Can Be Challenging 297

Managing and Organizing Qualitative Data 298

Approaches to Qualitative Analysis 300

Other Methods of Qualitative Analysis 311

The Technology of Analysis 315

Key Points 317

Questions for Review 317

Portfolio Exercise 318

Interactive Activities 318

Online Resources 319

14 How Do Researchers Develop Deductive Findings?

Quantitative Data Analysis 320

Chapter Overview 321

Introduction: Why Data Analysis Is the Starting Point for Quantitative Research 321

Types of Variables 322

Descriptive and Inferential Statistics 324

Quantitative Analysis as a Tool for Understanding 324

Univariate Analysis 328

Bivariate Analysis 333

Multivariate Analysis 335

Key Points 341

Questions for Review 342

Portfolio Exercise 342

Interactive Activities 343

Online Resources 344

15 How Do Researchers Record and Share Their Work?

Writing and Dissemination 345

Chapter Overview 346

Introduction: How to Get Started 346

Effective Writing 348

Disseminating Your Work 353

Presentations 360

Issues to Consider when Disseminating Research 363

And Finally 364

Key Points 364

Questions for Review 365

Portfolio Exercise 365

Interactive Activities 366

Online Resources 367

Glossary 368
