

The Private Library

Being a More or Less Compendious Disquisition
on
The History of the Architecture and Furnishing of the Domestic Bookroom

Reid Byers

New Castle, Delaware
2021

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements . . . . . xi

Introduction: The Domestic Library . . . . . 1

A Room of Its Own—The History of Libraries—Apologia—What This Book is
Not About

Ancient and Classical Architectures

1. The Ur-Libraries: Sumer and Babylon . . . . . 11

Influences: The First Books—Influences: The First Library—The First Private Libraries

2. Type One Libraries: Egypt and Classical Greece . . . . . 21

Egyptian Libraries—Clues: Papyrus—Clues: Early Libraries in Literature—Clues:
Egyptian Book-Boxes—Clues: The Tomb of Tjay—Clues: Egyptian Houses—
Mystery: A Proposed Solution—Classical Greece: Private Libraries in the Hellenic World—Influences: Papyrus Scrolls—Who Had Private Libraries?—The Wanderings of Aristotle's Books—Influences: Public Libraries—Influences: The Book Trade—Influences: The Greek House—Influences: Early Furniture—The Early Greek Private Library

3. Type Two Libraries: Hellenistic Greece and the Roman Republic . . . . . 47

The Influence of the Great Libraries—Storage Furniture in Hellenistic Greece—Identifying Type Two Library Ruins—The Roman Republic—Influences: The Roman House—Examples in Literature—Examples from Archaeology—The House of the Menander—The Villa of the Papyri—The House of the Vettii—Other Libraries—A Model Type Two Library—Traveling Libraries

4. Type Three Libraries: The Roman Empire and the Early Middle Ages . . . 71

The Change in Library Design—The Influence of the Roman Public Library—Private Library Architecture: Type Three—Evidence for Type Three Libraries—The Libraries of the “House of Augustus”—Pompeii VI, 17, 41—Tiberius' Library at Capri—Other Libraries—Shelving in the Roman Library—Windows—Furnishing and Details—Changes Under the Later Empire—Cassiodorus—Isidore of Seville—
The Last Roman Library—Summary: The Empire Library

The Middle Ages and the Middle Kingdom

5. High and Late Medieval Libraries: Private Reading in

Monastery and Palace . . . . . 97

Early Church Libraries—Early Monastic Libraries—Private Reading in the Monastery—Byzantine Private Libraries—Domestic Libraries in the Middle Ages—The Architecture of the Medieval Private Library—The Chest and the Chest-Desk—Other Reading Furniture—In the First Universities

6. The Renaissance: Experiments Rich and Strange . . . . . 119

The Study in the Italian Renaissance—The Year 1500—The Lectern System—The Lectern System in Northern Europe —The Wall System—The French Renaissance—The Renaissance in England—The Influence of the English Universities—From the Lectern to the Stall—The Wall System in England—The Rebirth of the Book-Wrapt Room

7. Private Libraries in the East . . . . . 155

The Private Library in China—Tianyige—Scholars' Studies—The Furnishings of the Study—How Would It Have Felt to Use a Scholar's Study?—Traditional Japanese Libraries—Shoin Architecture—Japanese Book Furniture and the Kura—Private Libraries in Islam—Islamic Library Architecture—India—Africa—Biblical Libraries

The Early Modern and the Empire

8. The English Country House and Its Library . . . . . 187

Apotheosis—The Evolution of the English Country House

9. The Seventeenth-Century Scholar's Library . . . . . 197

The Scholar's Library—The Uses of the Seventeenth-Century Scholar's Library—Book Storage—Reading—Pottering—Retreat—Access Patterns—Examples: The Scholar's Library—Chenies Manor—Smythson's Closet—Ashwellthorpe—Ham House—Denham Place—Rougham Hall—Penshurst—Stoke Park—Pepys' Library—Longleat—Dunham Massey—Houghton—Colonial Examples—Seventeenth-Century Shelving—Bookpresses vs. Bookcases—Continuous Shelving—Furniture in the Scholar's Library—A Time Line of Style in the Country House Library—Writing Tables and Desks—Library Chairs—Seventeenth-Century Furniture Arrangement

10. The Eighteenth-Century Family Library . . . . . 231

The Growth of Reading—Palladianism—Holkham—Lampport Hall—Felbrigg—Bowood—Library Palladianism and the Classical Orders —Eighteenth-Century Architectural Shelving—Ranges of Shelves—Furnishings for the Family Library—Essential Seating in the Eighteenth Century—The Eighteenth-Century Library Table

11. The Nineteenth-Century Social Library . . . . . 267
 The House Party—New Uses—Charlecote Park—Althorp—The Shelving Debates of the Nineteenth Century—The Wall System—The Bay System—The Stack System—The Radial System—The Peripheral System—The Doubled Peripheral System—Mazes—Growth—The Shelf Cabinet Doors—Shelf Decoration—Fixed or Adjustable Shelves—Shelf Height—The Determination of Overall Height and Dado Height—The Height of Individual Shelves—Shelf Width and Depth—Shelf Wood in the Nineteenth Century—Corners—Miscellaneous Shelving Details—Library Furniture in the Nineteenth Century—Desks—Other Writing Furniture—Periodical Furniture—Strange Seating—Lounging Chairs—Library Beds—Floor Coverings—Window Treatments—Library Stairs and Metamorphic Furniture—Stands and Special Tables—Display Cabinets—Fireplace Furniture—Family and Social Library Room Arrangements

12. Parallel Developments . . . . . 327
 Libraries of Commoners—Display Libraries—Kenwood—Harewood—Kedleston—Dispersal—Minterne House

The Twentieth Century, and the Twenty-First

13. Contemporary Private Libraries . . . . . 345
 Arts and Crafts—Contemporary Traditional—The Modern—Steel—The Post-modern—New Uses for the Contemporary Library—New Work and Study—Music—Archival Storage—Existential Comfort—Dining—A Generative Engine—The Sovereign Cure for Boredom—The Unknown Library Usage

14. The Future of the Private Library . . . . . 371
 The Odd Situation of the Moment—Using Digital Equipment in the Library—The Great Antique Furniture Computer Reversal—Using Digital Literature in the Library—Digital Books—Keeping Book-Like Things in Today’s Library—The Nature of the Future Private Library—The Long View—Physical Books in the Future Library—The Future of the Physical Library—Libraries for Digital Books—The Reader as Cyborg—The Virtualization of the Library’s Traditional Uses—The Virtualization of, Yes, the Country House Library—Libraries and the Singularity—Postscript: Why Build a Library Today?

Appendix A: The Time Line of the Private Library . . . . . 407

Appendix B: The Library Room Itself . . . . . 411
 Orientation—Intercommunication—Location—Mobility—Built-Ins—Moveable Shelving—Portable Shelving—Small Size—Miniature Libraries—Exceptionally Large Libraries—Capacity—Planning for Expansion—The Shape of the Private Library—Ratios and Shapes—Fixed-Width Case Units—Height—The Use of Galleries—Second Floors and Lofts—Multiple Rooms—Multiple Locations

Appendix C: The Architectural Details of the Library . . . . . 445
 Library Walls—Library Ceilings—Library Windows—Window Seats—Doors and Entryways—Doors and Flow—Secret Doors and Jibs—Dividers—Library Fireplaces—Fireplace Surrounds—Nooks—The Library Garden—Library Floors—Library Lights—Other Details—Architectural Furniture

Appendix D: Traditional Amenities and Charming Anachronisms . . . . . 471
 The Amenities of the Library—Ladders—Reading Stands—Bookplates—Library Mottos—Book Weights—Bookmarks—Book Dummies—Book Cradles—The Book Truck—Book Braces—Cocktail Bars—Sherry Decanters—Wooden Boxes—Pillows and Blankets—Chess Sets—Dogs—Charming Anachronisms—Globes and Astronomical Toys—Organization—A Library Miscellany—References to the Passage of Time—Table Furnishings—Ornamenta Bibliothecae—Collection Cases—The Printing Press—Ghosts

Envoi . . . . . 491

Illustration Credits . . . . . 493

Works Cited . . . . . 499

Index . . . . . 517

Colophon . . . . . 540