

CONTENTS

---

Acknowledgements	vi
A Note on Language	viii
Introduction: Inexplicable Voices – Liminal Whiteness in the Early United States	1
1 'A shriek so terrible!': Charles Brockden Brown's Sensational Ventriloquists	21
2 'This is a story-telling age': Spectral Nostalgia in Bracebridge Hall	47
3 'What had become of me?': Sheppard Lee 's Blackface Transformation	71
4 'I say to you that I am dead!': Edgar Allan Poe's Protesting Cadavers	97
5 'How can I speak to thee?': Herman Melville's Muted Voice	121
6 'I'm making a white man of him': Making and Breaking Whiteness in The Garies and their Friends	149
Coda: The Resurrection of Whiteness	175
Bibliography	183
Index	201