

CONTENTS

On the 90-th anniversary of Viktor Leonidovich Malkov Valentin Golovin . . . . .	6
--	---

Introduction

Chapter 1

The own, the other, and the alien in the focus of social conflicts

Andreas Buller . . . . .	23
---------------------------------	----

Chapter 2

Discussion problems in the study of cross-cultural communication

Tatiana Labutina . . . . .	42
-----------------------------------	----

Chapter 3

Limits of Russia according to the European evidence
X–XV of the centuries: the comparative analysis

Vladislav Antonov . . . . .	65
------------------------------------	----

Chapter 4

The Northern Empire: Russia / Rus' on World Maps
of the First Half of the XV- th Century

Kudryavtsev O.F. . . . . .	85
-----------------------------------	----

Chapter 5

Confessional practice as a form of manifestation of various styles of thinking in the West (France) and in Russia in the XIV– XV centuries (historical approach)

Margarita V. Kuzmina . . . . .	93
---------------------------------------	----

Chapter 6

St. Petersburg in the reign of Empress Anna Ioannovna through the eyes of the British

Maxim Kovalyov . . . . . 120

Chapter 7

Europe and Russia: the dialogue of cultures In the masonic lodge territory

Sergey Kiyasov . . . . . 133

Chapter 8

«None of this was in our land». British images in the works of I.A. Goncharov as the antithesis of the Russian perception of the world (1840–1860's)

Alexander Orlov . . . . . 152

Chapter 9

«France under Louis – Napoleon» in the assessment of N.G. Chernyshevsky

Valery Avanesyan . . . . . 179

Chapter 10

Great Britain and Russia: Features of diplomatic rhetoric on the eve of the Crimean war

Mikhail Zholudov . . . . . 198

Chapter 11

British and Russian among Iranians: modus operandi through the eyes of a Russian onlooker

Andrey Larin . . . . . 211

Chapter 12

The war of independence in Cuba (1868–1878) and Spanish-American relations in Russian coverage diplomacy

Liudmila Ivkina . . . . . 237

Chapter 13

The image of Russia in the political rhetoric of British parliamentarians during the Eastern crisis of the 70s of the XIX century

Tamara Gella . . . . . 256

Chapter 14

«Tsar-peacemaker» and «Father of the people»: the image of Nicholas II in the British press in the late XIX-early XX centuries.

Olga Galkina . . . . . 275

Chapter 15

Revolutions in Russia in the assessments
of Argentine diplomats

Vladimir Kazakov . . . . . 297

Chapter 16

Allies and Enemies: Perceptions of the British and Germans by the Russian Society during the First World War

Irina Chikalova . . . . . 316

Chapter 17

British perception of the Russian Bolshevik leadership, 1918–1920 (according to MI 5 and Foreign Office records)

Evgenii Sergeev . . . . . 342

Chapter 18

Russia of the early 1920s in the assessment
of Fridtjof Nansen

Alexander Sokolov . . . . . 357

Chapter 19

Evolution of an image of the ally: 1914–1945

Alexander Golubev . . . . . 365

Chapter 20

The post-war Soviet Union through the eyes of British diplomats

Dmitry Portnyagin, Natalia Portnyagina . . . . . 385

Chapter 21

«Solitude» of Russia: “own’s” and “others”
in the Slavic world

Boris Petelin . . . . . 404

Chapter 22

“Own” / “Alien” in the autobiographical memory
of Russian Germans: atypical biography experience

Andrei Linchenko . . . . . 419

Chapter 23

Modern mutual images of Germans, French and Russians about each other (on the example of analysis of test drawings)

Adrien Houquet . . . . . 438

Contents. . . . . 458

Information about authors . . . . . 462