

PROUST BETWEEN DELEUZE AND DERRIDA

The Remains of Literature

James Dutton

EDINBURGH
University Press

Contents

Series Editor's Preface	vi
Acknowledgements	viii
Abbreviations	ix
Introduction: Text: The Difference between Philosophy and Literature	I
1. Voice: Tracing Restance through the Textual Abyss	22
2. Sense: The Hollow of Experience, the Mark[ ] of Aiôn	46
3. Desire: Deferring a Productive Without	87
4. Love: Differentiating Groups, Faciality and the Black Hole/ White Wall System	117
5. Jealousy: Absolute Knowledge as a Dream (of) Writing	145
6. Grief: The Revenant and the Impossibility of Mourning (Writing)	172
Conclusion: Sign: Ending Text	196
Bibliography	206
Index	216